Theatres Plan Amateur Shows During Frolic

Plans were under way today to stage a gala jamboree of Torrance amateur talent at the Grand theatre in connection with the Factory Frolic Saturday, September 28.

Tentative plans call for the event to be the biggest of its kind ever held here. Prizes of all kinds, from cash to merchandise, are to be given to the entrants. This is a chance for "home talent" to really show its wares.

The event is to be staged in as professional a manner as possible but no one with professional experience will be allowed to enter. All persons interested in participating are requested to call at the Grand, Torrance or Gardena theatres and fill out an entry blank.

Those planning to enter should do so as soon as possible as the earliest entrants will receive preference as to spots on the program. If you whistle, dancing, play any musical instrument, imitate, or look funny, enter right away.
