

MORE THAN 25 ATTEND TEA PARTY The home of Mrs. R. J. Rogers, Jr., on Carson street furnished the setting for a pretty tea last Thursday which was attended by members of the Penny Anna Club and their guests. Fall flowers added a decorative note to the dainty tea table at which Mesdames Maxine Willets, Mildred Drury and Georgie Tappin poured. Plans were made today, at the meeting of the club at the Redondo Beach home of Mrs. Mickey Twyman for a Halloween party to be enjoyed by members and their husbands.

The women of today have a far reaching opportunity to assist in bringing out of present world conditions a more normal and peaceful sense of home. As we look back on our country's early history, we are able to discern the important part the home has played in shaping its destiny. In this day of specialists we must avoid the tendency to become housekeepers instead of homemakers. Too intensive a study of "Household Management" and "Family Budgets" may lead one to become more or less mechanical, losing vision and individual expression. This results in an atmosphere of coldness, exactitude and order that allows no variations. Housekeeping should be subordinated to homemaking. It should give one more time to develop the art of homemaking—the qualities of friendliness and hospitality. By following the simple rules of orderliness, quietness and calmness, one sees the far reaching importance of home and the discordant tones of drudgery, monotony and weariness are lost. School Opens Oct. 16 Considering this, the subject of cookery should be given our careful attention. Poor cookery results not only in malnutrition, but also in a great burden on the family resources. Homemakers of this community are again having the opportunity of replenishing their store of ideas and their cook books with new recipes and suggestions at the Herald-News Happy Kitchen Cooking School. This free cooking school is being held at the Torrance Civic Auditorium next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Oct. 16, 17, 18, under the able direction of Miss Kay Gilbert, of the Happy Kitchen Cooking School. Miss Gilbert comes to Torrance with a wealth of new ideas for fall homemaking, entertainment and cookery. The doors of the Civic Auditorium will be open at 1 p.m. on Wednesday and Friday and 7:30 p.m. for the evening session on Thursday. There will be many valuable prizes distributed at the close of each session. CLUB ENTERTAINED IN AUTUMN SETTING Members of the Thursday Brunch club were entertained at the home of Mrs. D. A. Murphy last week. Chrysanthemums ranging in color from yellow to bronze accented the autumn motif used. Those present were Mmes. Robt. S. Sleeth, J. B. Scotton, J. R. Wilkes, R. L. Lewellen, Dean L. Sears, George H. Moore, W. L. Laughon and the hostess. High score honors were captured by Mmes. Lewellen and Moore. FURMERE STORE OWNER NOW ANGLENO Miss Cora B. Parrot expresses appreciation to former patrons of her shop at 1427 Marcellina and extends a cordial invitation to her many friends here to call at her home, 1724 West 46th street in Los Angeles.

Home Scene of Episcopal Card Parties Here One of the most successful of recent card parties was that sponsored by the vicar's committee of St. Andrew's Episcopal church and held Friday evening at the homes of various members. Approximately 50 tables of contract and auction bridge and pinocle were in play. Following is a list of Torrance hosts: Messrs. and Mesdames J. W. Post, C. C. Snow, J. E. Miller, J. F. Dalton, Edward Rhone, Dean L. Sears, The Theodore Cheesmans and the Willis M. Brooks entertained a group at their Palos Verdes home and Mrs. Mochan entertained at the home of her mother, Mrs. Katherine Dorse at Gardena. Committee members responsible for the success of the affair included Mmes. J. C. Snow, J. W. Post, L. H. Deinger, Florence Welch and J. E. Miller. At a late hour, participants in card play at the various homes met at Guild Hall where refreshments were served by the committee.

P. E. AUXILIARY GROUP AT GILBERT'S Members of the P. E. Auxiliary were entertained at the W. H. Gilbert home Friday evening where Mrs. Gilbert was assisted by Mrs. D. A. Barnard as co-hostess. A Halloween motif was carried out in refreshments and decorations.

31 Attend Annual Dinner-Party of Eastern Star Order

The annual Order of the Eastern Star party, honoring the worthy matron and worthy patron of Torrance Chapter 380, was held at Scully's Saturday evening. Worthy Matron Theresa Hill was presented with a handsome gift from the group by Associate Matron Lola Hoover and Worthy Patron Frank Brown graciously accepted the chapter gift from Associate Patron Ray Hoover. The tables were beautifully decorated with gold and blue flowers carrying out the worthy matron's colors and covers were marked for 31. A color highlight of the evening was the singing of "South of the Border" by the ladies who wore Spanish shawls.

Following the dinner party, tables of bridge, pinocle and Chinese checkers were in play with William Ruppel as high score holder at bridge while Miss Lorain Hill was presented with the pinocle prize and Mrs. Bertha Ainsworth received an award for checkers. Those presents were Messrs. and Mmes. A. N. Clough, of Inglewood, John Hill, Frank Brown, Ray Hoover, Wallace West, William Ruppel, Harry Ainsworth, E. L. Patterson, Roy Winters, Homer Morgan, Lewis Miller, and Mesdames J. O. Moore, A. E. Kerber, V. L. Babcock, Elizabeth Brod, Mae McKinley, W. S. Bush, and the Misses Lorain Hill, Hermine Oetken, Rose Rothleder.

TIPS TO READERS Mrs. Dean L. Sears, president of St. Cecilia's Guild of St. Andrew's Episcopal church, welcomed a large group of book lovers who met Tuesday morning for the initial review in a series of monthly programs to be presented by Mrs. Florence Lee Ohlsen from October to May, inclusive. Guild Hall, beautifully decorated for the occasion with bronze chrysanthemums and colorful maple leaves presented a pleasing autumn background for the program. Influenced, no doubt, by present chaotic conditions prevalent in the world, Mrs. Ohlsen, in selecting her October list of books for review, chose works with a less warlike content, excepting, of course, her first and most fully discussed work, dealing in its entirety with the situation in Europe, "They Wanted War" by Otto D. Toltschuck.

Season ticket holders are requested to note that when they are unable to attend a review they may, on the succeeding month, have the privilege of taking a guest.

HIGH SCHOOL P. T. A. TO HONOR TEACHERS Instead of the regulation P.T.A. meeting, a reception honoring the principal and teachers of Torrance high school will be held at the school library Monday evening, Oct. 14, at 8 p.m. Invitations have been issued by the president, Mrs. J. O. Bishop, to the parents and friends and representatives of all city organizations to attend the reception as this will afford a splendid opportunity for parents and teachers to meet and become better acquainted. The business session will be omitted on this occasion. Mrs. T. Cooke, high school director of music will present an especially fine musical program.

Mrs. E. J. Strong, Tenth District P. T. A. president, was heard in a group of interesting pep talks Friday in the interest of the present P.T.A. membership drive.

NATAL DATE IS CELEBRATED Mrs. J. H. Young was hostess when she entertained with a luncheon Monday at her home on Gramercy avenue honoring her sister, Mrs. Anna Olson of Los Angeles, on the occasion of her birthday. A beautifully decorated birthday cake with appropriate greetings added an attractive note to the table at which covers were placed for the honoree and Mesdames L. C. Burger, A. L. Burger, John Keefe, J. W. Selby, Janet Woodson, E. L. Snodgrass, W. S. Bush and the hostess. Knitting and sewing occupied the afternoon hours following the luncheon.

PICNIC AT CITY PARK SUNDAY One of the most enjoyable get-together parties among the younger set recently was a picnic at Torrance city park Sunday. Relay races and competitive games furnished entertainment for the group. Included were Messrs. and Mmes. Clyde Jones and William Hinkley of Burbank, J. Carroll of Los Angeles, M. W. Hinchaw, Edward Rhone, G. H. Eisenbrandt, G. H. Fillingim, Walter Claus, John B. Young and Mrs. Baird, whose guest of the Rhones.
