

Niseis' Patriotism Told at Fern P.T.A. Japanese Program

"One can think clearly, act freely and speak freely in these United States," Fred M. Yamaya, vice-president of the L. A. Japanese American Citizens' League said in his opening remarks...

Boys' Club Hits Snag in Council Session Tuesday

Before the city can give consideration to the erection of a Boys' Club, as proposed by the Coordinating Council, members of the city council agreed Tuesday evening that they should have more concrete information regarding the cost of construction of the structure, its suggested location, and most of all, keep Councilman Vern Babcock, member of the recreation committee, voiced the opinion that if the upkeep was going to run $6,000 per year, it would mean a three-cent increase in the tax rate, and in this case, he was of the opinion that the matter should be submitted to the voters.

Babcock opened the discussion by asking the city attorney for a report on the proposed plan for obtaining Federal aid in defraying a part of the cost of a Boys' Club. City Attorney McCall said as the Federal government was interested in building man power, it would probably look with favor on construction of gymnasiums, but that he was of the opinion that only men of draft age would be permitted to use such a building. However, he said he would have more to report at the next meeting of the council.

Councilman Hitchcock suggested an informal meeting of the city council and committee members of the Coordinating Council. He expressed the opinion that the project was worthy and should be given every consideration by the council.

Still Close to Park Councilman Powell interjected the opinion that if anything of this nature were undertaken for residents of the older part of Torrance, similar facilities should be given to residents of Waldoria.

Commenting on the proposed location of the building on city property adjoining the County Health Center at Carson and Plaza del Amo, Mayor McGuire brought out that complaints had been made about that location by the city Park—the poor location of the City Park—yet the proposed location of the Boys' Club is "only three blocks away."

Councilman Murray, chairman of the Recreation committee, stressed the fact that no definite proposal had been made to his committee, which besides himself includes Councilman Babcock and Powell.

He emphasized that "no member of the recreation committee is doing anything to hinder the project," but that he thought more definite plans should be submitted before any meeting is held between council members and the Coordinating Council committee. He suggested that the committee discuss the matter with the city engineer and draw up more concrete plans.

There followed a general discussion by members of the audience. A suggestion, which seemed to meet with the approval of most of the councilmen was that any recreation building should be

City Attorney May Sue for Abatement of Sump Hazard

Elimination of an abandoned sump hole at 2911 230th street was recommended by Glenn Jain acting city engineer, in a communication addressed to City Clerk A. H. Bartlett and read at Tuesday evening's city council meeting. Jain pointed out that the open hole is a hazard to children playing near it.

The matter was originally brought to the attention of the council Feb. 6, thru petition of residents in the neighborhood. When asked for his opinion, City Attorney J. E. McCall recommended that a suit to abate the nuisance be instituted unless the matter can be settled by contacting the owner of the property who is said to be the president of the Southern California Drilling Company, former leasee of the well on the property. The matter was referred to the city attorney for report at the next meeting of the City Council.

planned to serve all ages and both sexes instead of just boys. Albert Isen stressed this point in particular, as well as agreeing with Councilman Powell that if the city is to launch a recreation project, it should include facilities for residents in all parts of the city.

Fire, Not Friction, Follows Forensics

When Postmaster C. Earl Conner was briskly walking to work Tuesday morning a passing motorist frantically drove up to him and yelled: "Say mister, your coat is on fire!"

And sure enough, when Earl halted he was enveloped in smoke emitting from the location of his coat's side pocket. Although the Democratic appointee (now blissfully reposing under civil service) contends that the fire was started by his pipe which he accidentally slipped into his pocket without extinguishing the tobacco embers, his Republican friends jokingly accuse him of being "burned up" after the Willie rally the night before in the Civic Auditorium.

SCHOOLS ROBBED Boys are believed to be responsible for a systematic ransacking of rooms at Torrance High and Elementary schools last Saturday and Sunday, according to police who were informed of the theft of candy and money, amounting to between $5 and $8, Monday.

The cash loss from accidents annually in the United States has been estimated at $2,500,000,000. About 38,000,000 pounds of snuff were marketed in 1939.

Business in Residence Area Again Protested

Protesting the existence of business in a residential area, G. L. King, 1961 Plaza del Amo, asked the city council Tuesday night to take action on a petition filed some weeks ago by residents in the neighborhood.

King particularly stressed the undesirability of a high board fence behind which lumber and other materials are stored on one lot in the neighborhood of his home.

While King did not mention the name of the party, it was learned that the objection was aimed at a plastering contractor.

It was announced at the last meeting of the local civic body that the National Junior Chamber award of a gold watch charm will be made here to the young man in the community who does the most to further civic development. The winner does not necessarily have to be a member of the Junior Chamber, according to President Jack Elder.

Legion Party Is Enjoyed by Large Group Tuesday

One of the most enjoyable parties of the week was the dinner dance Tuesday evening at American Legion clubhouse attended by a large group of Legion and Auxiliary members.

Arrangements of bronze and yellow chrysanthemums and black and orange candles in apple holders were used to decorate the tables while jack-o-lanterns further enhanced the Halloween decorative motif used throughout.

Lucille Lewellen served as toastmistress and "Quiz and Consequences" played at the dinner tables furnished an amusing prelude for dancing to the strains of the Trigg orchestra. Ping pong tables were arranged for guests who did not care to dance. The committee was headed by Misses Alice Thompson, Bea Burchett and Velora Murphy.

She will also appreciate suggestions as to the location of a Democratic headquarters in downtown Torrance and for a final drive here in behalf of the President.
