Tears Flow as French Flags Go Into Exile

Along the streets of Marseilles, crushed and bitter Frenchmen and women stood and gave vent to their feelings in moving scenes like this one as they saw the colors of great French regiments go into exile, to the Army of Weyland in North Africa. Note expressions on faces. One woman appears to be clapping her hands, but there are tears in her eyes. Goaded into battle, Weyland might yet bring new glory to these exiled banners by aiding British. (UP-Motion News)

A Woman Condemned to Die

In the gripping, drama-charged book, "Men At Their Worst," co-authored by Dr. Leo Stanley, chief surgeon at San Quentin prison, and Evelyn Wells, gifted California novelist, the famous prison physician recounts that during his 27 years of service he has watched more than 150 men die on the gallows. And during the last two years, he has watched nine other men go to meet their Maker in the lethal gas chamber.

Two Draftees Are Hedges' Station Rejected by Army One Year Old

Two of the 42-man contingent that composed the third Selective Service call-out from Board No. 280 which left Torrance Feb. 26 were rejected by Army authorities at the induction station in Los Angeles, it was learned late last week. They were Cleo Calvin Keith, 28, unemployed, a transfer from Los Gatos, and Tony Michalak, sheet inspector, 1210 El Prado. They were the first draftees from the local board to be rejected by the Army after having been summoned for duty.

Growth of human beings does not stop around 21 as popularly supposed. It is not unusual to add an inch after maturity.

They say the first 100 years are the hardest. . . well, Hedges' Richfield Service has only 99 more to go. This popular motor-ing-needs center at 1924 Carson st. is celebrating its first anniversary this week with a number of attractive "Dollar Day" specials. The firm thanks all its friends and patrons and announces it plans several improvements in the year to come.

FEAT BOG DEVELOPED NEWARK, Ohio (U.P.) - Machines which efficiently dry peat have made possible a new industry in the long-exploited U.S. bog, said to be the largest such tract in the country, located 15 miles north of Newark.

Rebekahs Enjoy Galloping Breakfast Roused from bed, from perusal of the morning paper, or garden work, a group of Rebekahs and their friends must have caught a whiff of the hot biscuits awaiting them as they submitted to being led away to a galloping breakfast last Thursday morning.

The ride ended at the home of Mrs. Lena Omohundro on Cypress st. where the hungry group, sans rouge, lipstick, in house-coats, slacks, pajamas, did justice to the fragrant coffee, biscuits and other good things to eat. Those "rounded-up" were Mesdames Pearl Montoney, Louise Montoney, Dora Rickers, Hattie Schroeder, Ada Anderson, Jewell Frederick, Fay Slate, Florence Mang, Regina Hudson and Lonetta Talbert.

GROOM, 31, BRIDE, 30 FORT WAYNE, Ind. (U.P.) - A marriage license was issued here to Edward Booth, 31, and Art Missa Destamony, 30. It will be the third marriage for the groom and the second for the bride.

Scots Continue Rivalry Despite War Hazards P.V. Symphony Opens Season at Redondo Mar. 14

Centuries-old rivalry between Scotsmen and Englishmen has not been allowed to languish even in these days of Great Britain's peril. Henry McCulloch of 2413 Torrance boulevard is a true son of the heather and he and his fellow Scots here have been getting some deep chortles out of the following revision of the song, "There'll Always Be An England," which he received recently in a letter from Scotland:

There'll always be an England As long as Scotland's there To give shelter to the navy And the brunt of air raids bear. Sure, there'll always be an England -

As long as Scotsmen fight Alongside Welch and Irish To save old England's might.

There are Scotsmen in the army, There are Scots in air force blue; You'll find them in the army, With Welch and Irish too.

So, when we sing of England And of English in the fight Let's not forget those others That gave England her great might.

There will always be an England -

As long as Scotland stands For it's due to dear old Scotland That England's wealth expands. Our friendly neighbor England We always will defend.

We'll help her fight her battles - Her broken ships we'll mend - And when the war is over, And victory has been won, We'll sing of England's glory And the wonders she has done.

P.V. Symphony Opens Season at Redondo Mar. 14

The Palos Verdes Symphony Orchestra will be heard in concert Friday evening, March 14, at Redondo high school auditorium. Their conductor, Josef Piasiro, returned from his Eastern tour in January with new enthusiasm and ambitions for his musicians.

"Today, in a world torn by war and obsessed by commercialism, it is indeed refreshing to find a group of men and women in every walk of life united for the sole purpose of giving pleasure to others." This statement by a member sets forth the aims and objects of this unique organization. Torrance, Lomita and Gardena furnish their quota of players among whom are Howard Brady, oboe; Al Doucet, trombone; Kenneth Hindley, cello; Wilbur Hornstra, trombone; Jean Hornstra, violin; Jeanne Houde-shelt, flute; Walter Marek, violin; S. M. Stanton, trombone; Sol Lieb, cello, Al Medlicott, trumpet.

The program March 14 will be of a melodic and "popular" nature and will include the dramatic "Egmont" Overture of Beethoven, the most popular of the Mozart Symphonies, the one in G Minor; the tremendous "Marche Slav" by Tschalkowsky and the Strauss waltz "Tales from the Vienna Woods." The orchestra is a subsidiary of the Palos Verdes Community Arts Association with Thomas Taggart as chairman of the executive committee and James F. Howe general manager and chairman of the orchestra committee. The coming concert is under the auspices of the Redondo Union Evening High School concert and entertainment course.
