

Nylander Is Hospitalized

Sig Nylander, former coach of athletics at Torrance high school has been returned from the western front offensive for hospitalization at Dibble General hospital in Menlo Park, Calif. The information was received by phone call from Cpl. Dale Howe on Sunday evening. Torrance high school's former coach received a leg injury in Paris, France, but is recovering nicely. He looks robust and well. At Dibble General hospital he has met four of his former pupils from Torrance: Milo Anderson, Rolly Justice, Fred Miller, and Dale Howe who serves on the hospital staff.

WELFARE CENTERS' DIRECTORS . . . Left to right, Cecil S. Feldman, newly appointed director for the Welfare Center and War Chest in the Bell-Downey-Compton area, and Mrs. Mary Eggleston, extension director of the Welfare Council and Service Centers in Torrance and Hawthorne. Residents of Torrance and Lomita are invited to bring health problems, those concerning child care and guidance, or serious domestic relationships to the staff workers of Community Chest agencies in the Welfare Center at 1400 Cravens st., Torrance 1405.

Thomas Sponsors C.I.O. Health Insurance Bill

Assemblyman Vincent Thomas, of the 68th District which includes Torrance and Lomita, is sponsor in the State Assembly of the California C. I. O. Council's public health insurance bill, it has been announced. Gov. Earl Warren, who has called for such a bill, highly praised the C. I. O. measure. The executive board of the C. I. O. Council has served notice that if the Legislature doesn't pass the People's Health Act or a similar bill, the C.I.O. will join with other groups to try for enough signatures to put such a measure on the next general election ballot. Much of the C.I.O. bill is substantially or entirely similar to Warren's. Principal differences are: Benefits in the way of medical care would begin July 1, 1946, instead of Jan. 1, 1947. Payroll contributions of 1 percent by both employer and employee, as in the Warren bill, would be levied on a maximum salary of $5000 instead of $4000. The fee schedule system of compensating doctors would apply only when "special medical benefits" are given. All other benefits, including hospitalization and laboratory, would be on a per capita basis. A California Health Insurance Committee of nine appointed by the governor would administer the act. The committee would be composed of two from the employer group, two from unions, two from the medical profession, two from agriculture and one from the general public. The majority of employees in the state, those not belonging to unions, would contribute most of the funds, but they would be without representation on the committee. Creation of a school of labor relations at the University of California, both at Berkeley and Los Angeles, as suggested by Gov. Warren, is proposed in a bill by Assemblyman Phil Davis of West Los Angeles.

TIPS ON LIVER
Try scalding pork liver before cooking it and see if it isn't more palatable. Just pour boiling water over the liver and let it stand until the color changes from red to gray—doesn't take over a minute. Cook at a low temperature—and this applies to all kinds of liver—it not only burns easily but becomes tough if cooked too fast or overcooked.

JOIN THE MARCH OF DIMES!

The annual march of the bright little dimes that do so much to brighten the outlook for those who are combatting infantile paralysis is now under way. Your contribution, of course, is not limited to ten cents. But each dime will play its part in this worthy cause. The generous response by the people of America in these campaigns, especially during the past three years, shows that even in the midst of a great war they are not unmindful of the needs of others. This is a wholly non-political undertaking. The infantile paralysis drive for funds favors neither creed nor party. Those who give their money do not ask if it will be used to aid persons of a certain race or religion. They know that all will be treated alike.

This campaign symbolizes the unity among men in which discrimination and prejudice vanish in the interest of the common welfare. Through activities such as this, the forces which seek to set one group, or race or creed against another are being diminished. The only favoritism in this campaign is on behalf of humanity. Let us carry forward the spirit and help to spread happiness and cheer. The dimes are on the march!
