Public Schools Week Program Draws Big Crowd
By SUNNY JUNE MORRIS
The doors of Torrance High school swung open to admit a record crowd to the Open House, to which the parents of all students were invited on Tuesday evening.

The program opened with patriotic numbers by the high school band under the direction of Louis Sauter. The program was announced by Leonard Green, teacher of social studies. Guests for the evening were E. M. Mosher, master of the Torrance Masonic Lodge, Mrs. L. F. Watson, president of the Torrance High School Parent-Teacher Association; and Mrs. E. W. Clark, program chairman for the Parent Teachers organization.

Miss Elizabeth F. Parks, vice principal of Torrance High school, presented the guests of the evening.

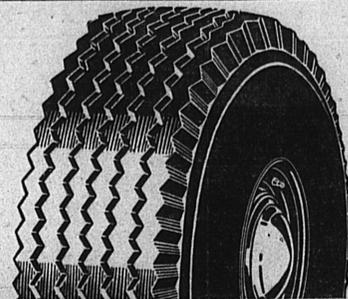

Four excerpts from the senior play, "Seven Sisters," were introduced by Robert Maxfield, student manager of the play. These drew many laughs from a responsive audience.

A program of musical numbers and other entertainment was presented by Carol Clark, the Tartar-Knights and Ladies, Ronald Anderson, Ned Derryberry, Lory Watson, Bob Watters, Gloria Alfred, Barbara Coles, Beverly Hopkins, Beverly McClure, Alice Duarte, Pearl Ologue, Josie Reyes, Nelle Rio, Eunice Abramson, Robert Curtis, Frank Norris, and Dean Wickham.

Wanda Moore, in-coming president of the Girls' League, and Mary Schulz, reporter for Girls' League, poured at the artistically decorated tables in the library, assisted by Shelby Freeman, Stella Palmer, Pat Sunnel, Beverly Kaiarganilla, Claudia Hani, Thelma Berks and Emogene Skaggs. The masculine muscle was furnished by Douglas Woovever and Marvin Loosel.
