Deputies Raid Illegal Clinic Near Torrance

Two asserted "birth control" clinics, one in Long Beach and the other in county territory near Torrance, were raided Tuesday by sheriff's deputies and investigators from the Los Angeles District Attorney's office.

Following a raid on an East Second st. address in Long Beach, authorities visited 1011 W. 223rd st., where Mrs. Mae (Ma) Ramsey, 68, was arrested and booked in county jail on suspicion of performing an illegal operation. The two clinics, investigators claim, were operating in syndicate, with prospective patients referred from one to the other.

Mrs. Ramsey was paroled in June, 1943, from the Tehachapi women's prison where she served approximately two years after pleading guilty to felony conspiracy charges May 2, 1941, in connection with illegal operations.

Seized with her at the Carson st. address Tuesday were her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Lois Ramsey, 30; Winifred Howard, 42, and William J. Merrill, 29. The address, officers say, was one of four places raided in 1940. Two were in Wilmington and the fourth was in Palos Verdes. The "White Carnation" syndicate because prospective patients identified themselves by wearing the white carnation.

VETERANS CAB PLEA FOR FIREPROOF BUILDING DELAYED

The appeal of the Vets Cab Service to build a fireproof taxi office 8 by 12 feet at 1311 Cabrillo ave., failed to win approval of the City Council Tuesday night. While Councilman W. H. Tolson made the motion to grant the permission, the matter was referred to the City Engineer's office when he said he wanted to find out what kind of a fireproof building the company wants.

Meanwhile, a non-fireproof taxi office building erected nearly a year ago "for 90 days," still remains on the same street, in the same fire zone, it was pointed out.

DEAR, DEAR—DEER! . . . Just by way of proof that Torrance hunters are bringing home the bacon, pardon, venison, C. F. Duroy (left), and son, Louis, 1618 W. 218th st., experience no difficulty in spreading happy smiles while posed beside their kill. The elder Duroy knocked his buck down with a single shot at 500 yards distance. "I spotted the three-pointer across a deep canyon," he grinned, "and when he dropped his big ears—my rifle dropped him." Louis, who bagged a four-pointer which weighed about 180 pounds, killed the big buck with "one loud bang at about 75 yards." The Duroys reported plenty of deer in the section in which they hunted. (In case you're interested, men, it is about 30 miles from Vernal, Utah. Sorry, they didn't mention which direction.) (Torrance Herald photo.)

Hunter Tells Of The One That Got Away After Kill

High in the northern Utah mountains, trudging through six inches of snow on the opening day of deer season can be a lot of fun, if a hunter brings back a hefty buck.

And that is just what two Torrance hunters, C. F. Duroy, 1618 W. 218th st., and his son, Louis, did last week. Firing two bullets netted the Duroys two handsome deer with a combined weight totaling well over 300 pounds. The elder Duroy, construction foreman for the Superior Oil Co., reported that he had more trouble bringing his prize back into camp than he did in bringing it down.

"After shooting my three-pointer, it required about a two-mile hike through thick underbrush to reach it," he explained. "During the unpleasant task of cleaning him I had a feeling of being watched, and turning around very slowly I discovered this to be true, for there, no more than thirty feet, stood plenty of venison idly flapping his big ears while he observed me at work.

"My gun was at least six feet away and I very slowly started to work toward it, never taking my eyes from my prey. I must have looked pretty silly to that deer because he just kept flapping his big ears, and I'll swear he seemed to enjoy the show I was giving him until I touched the rifle. He undoubtedly knew my act was over and his act had begun, because I've never seen anything become so scarce in such a short time," Duroy concluded, with gestures.

Louis, who dropped a four-pointer, revealed the hunting place to be about 30 miles from Vernal, Utah. That's right, men, he didn't say which way, and a 30-mile circle covers a lot of territory.

Thief Hikes Two Purses Here From Store Employees

Two women's purses, one containing a diamond ring valued at $175, were stolen Saturday from Mrs. Louise Edwards and Mrs. Vernetta Ruprecht, employees of the Childrens Wardrobe at 1277 Sartori ave. Mrs. Edwards, 1317 Acacia ave., whose purse contained the diamond ring and approximately $10 in cash, later reported that it had been found in Long Beach by J. E. Peterson, 1740 Pine ave., minus the cash and ring.

The purse of Mrs. Ruprecht, 1103 Portola ave., contained a wedding ring and approximately $40 in cash. Police said the theft occurred at the Childrens Wardrobe during the time the two women were waiting on customers.

Harbor City Man Suicide After Wounding Wife

A former Harbor City barber early Monday morning ended his life with a revolver slug after first wounding his wife while she begged him: "Please don't shoot!"

Succumbing to a head wound in Wilmington emergency hospital, Ray Leonard Wood, 55, died two hours, after he was taken there.

Suffering from wounds in her left arm, left side and neck, Mrs. Anna Wood, 53, is in the Long Beach Seaside hospital, where attendants said she has an "even chance" to survive.

Detectives discovered a note left by Wood which said: "Don't blame anyone but me, as I have been sick too long."

Mrs. Wood told police that she returned home at 12:30 a.m. Monday after visiting friends in Huntington Beach and found her husband lying fully clothed on a bed. She said she asked him to get undressed and go to bed. "Ray jumped off the bed," Mrs. Wood said, "and twisted my arm. He had a strange look on his face.

"It broke away and ran out of the house. He chased me and then yelled, 'Anna, come back in.' "I screamed back at him that I was afraid.

"He then drew a gun and shot me twice. The second shot knocked me down. I heard a third shot and looked around and saw Ray lying on the ground."

Ray had put a bullet through his right temple. Mrs. Wood stumbled to a neighbor's house and police were summoned.

Her husband died without regaining consciousness. The body was shipped Wednesday to Fort Smith, Ark., for burial.

MEDLEY ASKS FOR PERMIT TO BUILD CHEMICAL PLANT

A petition of Harry Medley, of United Sulphur Co., to build a plant for dry chemical fertilizer at 1811 W. 213th st., was referred to the City Planning Commission on Tuesday night by the City Council.

The council concurred in the action of the planning body in granting Charles Gotts permission to construct a miniature golf course at Santa Fe and Arlington avenues.

HOLD THAT FIRE!

As the hunting season gets under way, the annual warning: "Never shoot at the wild animal while it is lighting a cigar," continues popular.

Dr. Townsend Guest Of Club Here Nov. 12

Townsend Millions club will serve a big turkey dinner Nov. 12 from 6 to 7:15 p.m. in Torrance Civic auditorium. The occasion will be in honor of the organization's founder, Dr. Francis E. Townsend, who will be present to meet local members, Mrs. Ethlyn Vorhis, secretary, has announced.

Other prominent members scheduled to make their appearance will be John C. Cunes, state organizer; Dr. Norman Pendleton and Wilford Howard of San Francisco. University students will provide the musical entertainment for the evening, the announcement read.

Dancing will round out the evening's entertainment. Everyone is invited to attend the affair, and tickets for the dinner may be obtained at Beacon Drug store, corner of Cabrillo and Gramercy avenues.

WARNING

Do not leave heaters burning when absent from your home. Do not sleep in rooms with a gas heater burning. In combination with poor ventilation, it might result in your being asphyxiated, warns Torrance Fire Chief J. D. McHale.

H. B. Lewis Back From Arizona Aviation Parley

H. B. Lewis, representing a group of Los Angeles aviation interests, attended the Arizona Second Aviation Conference, Oct. 23 to 26.

Featured speaker at the conference was Lieutenant General James H. (Jimmy) Doolittle, vice president of Shell Union Oil Company. Doolittle stressed the importance of "not attempting to run the airport from the city hall," adding that it was "a fatal error to give the airport manager all of the responsibility unless he had all of the authority."

Lewis, who was stationed with General Doolittle at McCook Field in 1924, had an opportunity of renewing old acquaintances.

McDonald Estate Sells Carson Street Building

Bob Haggard, Torrance realtor, announced yesterday the sale of the Flora McDonald estate property on Carson st. now occupied by the Carsonmart, Torrance Bowling Alley, the Moose lodge and Alma's Bakery to H. D. Weinburg of Hollywood.

Plans call for immediate remodeling and improvement of the property. The property sold for approximately $75,000, Haggard said.

The Moose lodge already has plans under way for construction of a new building on its lot on Torrance blvd., and probably will remain in the present building until June.

Whatever the evening's program—a friendly gathering, a game of bridge, the newest novel—be sure to include good lighting for greater enjoyment! For a well-lighted home is a cheerful home... a gracious home... an inviting home.

"Bulbs—oh swell, now we can stay up after dark!"

A well-lighted home is also a home free from eyestrain... a home secure against night-time accidents caused by poor lighting. It's a place where after-dark living is truly lived at its enjoyable best. For there's really no place like home when it's well lighted!

KEEP A SUPPLY OF LIGHT BULBS ON HAND

REPLACE DIM BULBS

Now that bulbs are back again, you can fill those empty sockets, or replace dim, undersized bulbs with brighter ones. Try a 150-watt bulb in your reading lamp and just feel the pleasing difference it makes! Or use a floor or table lamp that combines 100-200-300-watt lighting in a single bulb for reading, sewing, and general illumination. A few "spares" in different sizes is the convenient way to keep your home always well lighted.
