Accordionettes Present Novel Christmas Programs

Using a beautifully effective Toyland setting for their Christmas entertainment presented recently at Santa Monica Municipal Auditorium, the Accordionettes and their dancers were enthusiastically received by a large gathering.

As Pat Hornick announced each dancer, dressed as a beautiful doll, was carried to the stage. First appeared lovely little brunette Yolanda Francis as an ice skating doll, carried by Jimmie Ray Morris. Next Louise Clouse sprang from a huge box to perform her Jack-in-the-Box dance. Tracey Dale was a wooden soldier and Gloria St. Dennis as a Dutch doll danced to the strains of "Wooden Shoes." Cindy Hornick, the ballet doll, performed difficult acrobatics atop a high stool, completing her number with an adagio with Steve Hornick. Big and little sister dolls were Marcia Maddock and Robin Thomas, who sang "Santa Claus is Coming to Town."

Accordion solos and background music were played by Bobby and Norzette Church, Gail and Bettie Thomas, Steve Hornick, Jimmy St. Dennis, Cathryn Clouse and Loella Epps.

Following the much acclaimed Toyland finale, the dolls were carried off the stage. Another delightful performance in which the Accordionettes appeared was at the Lions club in the Don Hotel, Wilmington, Wednesday evening. Lioness club, Miss Cindy Hornick, opened the program with fast acrobatic and trick numbers while standing on her little stool.

Others appearing on this program were Yolanda Francis, Jimmy Ray Morris, Tracey Dale, Louise Clouse, Steve and Pat Hornick, Gloria St. Dennis and Robin Thomas. The Accordionettes were Bobby and Norzette

EUGENE JOE STONES WELCOME FIRST CHILD

Lt. and Mrs. Eugene Joe Stone, 389 Panama ave., Long Beach, are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a son, Robert Joseph, born Dec. 4 at Seaside hospital, Long Beach.

The grandparents are Mrs. Edna Stone of 337 Carroll Park, West, Long Beach, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Armstrong, Long Beach. The baby also has a great-grandmother, Mrs. Ida Flint, who makes her home with Mrs. Edna Stone.

The father was recently transferred from Army air forces at Goodfellow field, Texas, to the status of an AAF reserve officer. On Tuesday he entered Caltech at San Dimas as a student of ornamental horticulture for a three-year course.

MRS. J. C. SNOW IS PARTY HOSTESS
Mrs. J. C. Snow was a gracious hostess when she entertained Tuesday evening at her home on Beech avenue. Arrangements of poinsettias used throughout the rooms and lighted candles created an effective holiday setting for the tables where a dessert course was served. Later bridge furnished diversion with Mesdames J. F. Wilkes, J. T. Olinger and Edna Stone as prize winners.

Others attending were Mrs. W. I. Laughon, Mrs. Ronald Beddoe, Mrs. Jackson S. Moore and Mrs. Dean L. Sears.
