Rabies Active In Forests

Although it has not been possible to have laboratory tests run, it is believed that rabies is again active among the wild animals in the Angeles National Forest, according to Dr. Roy O. Gilbert, Los Angeles county health officer, following reports of several foxes thought to be rabid.

Within the past two months six foxes have been suspected, among them one whose hind legs appeared to be paralyzed. Persons who are planning trips into the mountains are asked to be on the lookout for any animal acting in an unnatural manner. Reports should be made immediately to the nearest Ranger station or public health office, Dr. Gilbert said.

IT MAY BE UNIVERSALS

If there is a peculiar knocking noise when a car is coasting or when the rear wheels are driving the engine, it may be well to suspect the universal joints. Worn universal joints usually reveal themselves under these conditions.

Study Club To Hear Musician

Taking for her subject "Music, Our Daily Bread," Olivia Noel Robertson, gifted young pianist, will be presented by the Friday Morning Study Club Nov. 7 in the Y.W.C.A. auditorium at 10 o'clock.

Born in Paris, Missouri, Miss Robertson began playing the piano at the tender age of four. She graduated from Stephens college and the University of Missouri, and continued her studies abroad as a pupil of Isidor Phillip, world-famous teacher. Receiving her diploma from the American Conservatory, Fontainebleau, France, she returned to America where she became a member of the faculty at Stephens college. Not content with her music education she then furthered her piano studies with Arne Oldberg at Northwestern university.

Olivia Noel Robertson is a brilliant pianist and entertaining speaker. She has combined the two arts to bring to the concert platform music that is a delight to everyone. In a charming manner she blends stories and comments on her numbers with intelligent musicianship and pianistic ability.

Preceding the program Mrs. Elmer L. Higgs, president, will conduct the business of the club and also introduce Margaret Meredith who will give a brief talk on "Dramatize Your Windows."

Warning Given On Curing Of Olives At Home

With the olive-crop ripening earlier than usual this year, the annual warning against improper curing and processing of olives was issued to housewives of Los Angeles county by Dr. Henry C. Smiley, Torrance district health officer.

Olives, a low acid-food, are highly susceptible to food poisoning caused by botulinus bacteria. When home-canned, even in a pressure cooker with a brine or other liquid, they should be boiled 15 minutes before tasting or feeding to others, the health officer pointed.

If home-cured or home-processed olives are moldy, soft or rancid smelling, they should be destroyed either by burning or as sewage and not fed to animals or poultry. "If they are tainted with botulinus," Doctor Gilbert said, "the food poisoning will kill whatever consumes them."

MORE TROUBLE IS DUE

When compression in the engine weakens due to cylinder or piston ring wear, the motorist usually thinks first of a loss of power. When the cylinders have worn, however, it means for one thing that gasoline is allowed to fall into the crankcase where it dilutes the lubricant. This usually is the beginning of further trouble.
