G.S. TROOP 610 IN VARIETY OF NEW ACTIVITIES
 Girl Scout Troop No. 610, sponsored by Nativity Catholic Church, at their meeting in Scout House Friday evening had as their guest, Mrs. L. Loton, a new leader who will organize a Catholic Girl Scout troop in Lomita.
 The girls spent the evening working on ceramics in preparation for a ceramics workshop scheduled for Feb. 2 in Willington with Mrs. Rose Jones, Troop 610's leader, as director. Marking the first time the Girl Scouts had enjoyed the new Scout house in Torrance city park, Troop 610 were the guests of Boy Scout Troop 219. The evening in the Torrance Kiwanis-sponsored troop's building featured the showing of films of the giant redwoods.

 Troop Leader Mrs. Rose Jones this week returned from Actor, near Palmdale, where she spent the previous week conducting a school for Girl Scout leaders.

SEASIDE RANCHOS
 MRS. HELEN CARLTON — Frontier 6185

After heated discussion on the street lighting problem at the regular meeting Thursday evening, members of the Seaside Ranchos Home Owners Association voted to refer the matter to the new block captains for an individual expression on ornamental lighting in the tract. Results of this canvass will be brought before the February meeting.

Appointment of Mrs. Dorothy Johnson and Mrs. Paul Roettger as co-chairmen of a special educational committee from Seaside Ranchos was voted after a talk on school facilities and probable 1949 enrollment in the Southwest Torrance area by Comm. W. A. Mason, president of Hollywood Riviera Home Owners Association. This committee, President Harvey Spelman; Vice President Ev Rowan of Seaside, Commander Mason and other home owners of Hollywood Riviera and Walteria met Monday evening at the G. H. Miller home in Hollywood Riviera for a discussion of mutual educational problems.
 Committee heads for the year, appointed at last Thursday's meeting, include Mrs. Paul Roettger, ways and means; Mrs. Byron Johnson, education; Ev Rowan and Charles Robinson, program; Tom McNary and James Hall, legal.
