

Torrance Has Four on List of Graduates

Four Torrance students will receive their diplomas from Compton College in the twentieth annual mid-year commencement, it was announced this week by Scott Thompson, president of the college. They are:

Madeline Ban, 1412 Crenshaw boulevard, history; Frederick Carstens, 152 Post avenue, business; Kenneth Miller, 16 West 216th street, physical education; and Daniel Moon, 1021 Amapola, journalism.

Nearly 200 will be graduated this month in one of the largest mid-year commencements in the history of the college.

Jim Johnston was elected Associated Student Body president at Compton College last week in a run-off election that was closely contested between the two top candidates for the office.

Johnston, former editor of the college paper and a journalism major, is a member of the Tartar Knights, Beta Phi Gamma, Compton Alpha and Beta Phi. For the past semester he was executive officer of the Tartar Shield. His opponent in the election was Paul Phillips, drama student, who was only 118 votes behind Johnston.

CAREER ENDS—More than 50 years of service with Columbia and United States Steel Company ended for Calvin Bird Gray with his death last Wednesday night at his home in Torrance.

Calvin Gray Dies Monday in Pittsburgh

Funeral services for Calvin B. "Pop" Gray, superintendent of the sheet mill of the Torrance plant of Columbia Steel Company, were held in Pittsburgh, Calif., Monday afternoon, Jan. 24.

One of the oldest employees of the United States Steel Corporation in length of service, "Pop" Gray died of a heart attack in his Torrance home, 1627 Post avenue, Wednesday night after more than 52 years of service with the steel corporation. He was 64 years of age.

Gray came to Columbia Steel Company in Pittsburgh in 1929 after working in various plants of U. S. Steel. The P. T. He was superintendent of Columbia's Pittsburgh sheet mill until being transferred to the Torrance plant in 1946. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lillian B. Gray, a son, J. Mortimer Gray of Pittsburgh, and two brothers.

Otto A. Kresse, general superintendent of the Torrance Mill, was among Columbia Steel officials who went to Pittsburgh to attend Gray's funeral. He was accompanied by Mrs. Kresse.

Three Attend Kiwanis Meet at San Jose

Dr. Howard Wood, newly installed president of the Torrance Kiwanis Club, Parke Montague, second vice-president and Angus McVicar, secretary, represented the local service club this week in a Presidents' and Secretaries' conference sponsored by the California-Nevada District of Kiwanis International.

The conference was held in San Jose. Purpose of the gathering was to lay the foundations for a stronger and more effective program of community service, national betterment and international welfare, through Kiwanis, in the coming year.

Mrs. Howard Wood and Mrs. Parke Montague accompanied their husbands to the conference.

Free Course in First Aid Opens Tonight

A free 18-hour course in First Aid will be offered at Torrance Evening High School, beginning tonight, Jan. 27, according to Al Applegate, principal. This class will be given by a qualified Red Cross instructor.

Those who successfully complete the instruction will be granted the Red Cross standard certificate of proficiency. Scout leaders, camp and playground workers, bus drivers, industrial employees and others will find the instruction of value. Those interested are asked to meet at 7 o'clock in room 209 of the high school.

Compensation to Veterans Not Taxable

The Torrance Area Veterans Service Center announces that disability compensation, pension or subsistence allowance paid to veterans or their dependents by the Veterans Administration are not considered as income for income tax purposes.

However, income that veterans may earn on part-time jobs while attending educational institutions full-time, or earn while on the job training, is subject to taxation under the existing laws.

For full information, veterans may call at the Veterans Service Center at 1339 Post avenue, Torrance, and ask for Mr. Caldwell.
