Church Reception Marks 50th Wedding Anniversary

Observance of the 50th anniversary of their wedding was the occasion for a beautifully appointed reception Sunday afternoon when Mr. and Mrs. Lewis H. Beason Sr., of 1728 Gramercy avenue, entertained family members and friends.

Approximately 75 attended the reception held in the parlors of First Methodist Church. Luncheon for 20 family members preceded the afternoon affair and during the evening the couple entertained informally in their home.

Mrs. Beason received her guests in an attractive aqua afternoon gown with a smart black hat and accessories, complemented by an orchid corsage. Receiving with the couple were their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis H. Beason Jr., of Los Angeles and their grand-daughters, Mmes. Jerry Hillman, of South Pasadena and Ray Doris, of Los Angeles.

Also attending the festivities was Mrs. W. R. Koob, a sister of Mrs. Beason, who arrived Thursday by plane from her home in Omaha.

Background music was played by the couple's grandson, Ray Doris of Los Angeles, who composed and dedicated a song for the occasion. Soloist was Charles Guasti of Los Angeles.

Centering the buffet table was a three tiered cake topped with bridal figurines and flanked with yellow lighted tapers. Friends were present from Los Angeles, Pasadena, Hollywood, Elsinore and as far away as Salt Lake City, and Alberta, Canada.

The Beasons were married March, 1899 in Denver, Colo., and for the past several years have made Torrance their home, coming here from Brawley, where he was editor of a daily newspaper and Mrs. Beason was active in church, Woman's Club and Red Cross work.

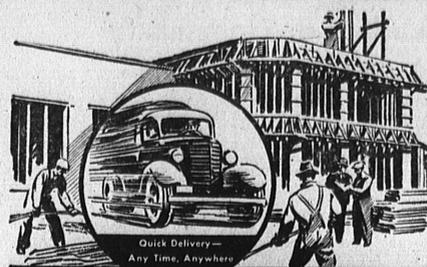

Mr. Beason has devoted his life to newspaper work and during his 50 years as a journalist he owned and operated two newspapers. He began his career in 1890 in Salt Lake City and upon arriving in California in 1918, he joined the editorial staff of the Los Angeles Times. Subsequently he served as managing editor of Torrance Herald, the Huntington Park Signal and the Brawley News.

Lomita Night is Scheduled By Wilmington Sing

Lomita Night will be observed at the Wilmington Sing Monday night, March 28, and in support of this night, to be recognized by the weekly singing group, the Mother's Chorus of Orange Street PTA will be featured during the evening's program.

Held at Gulf Avenue School Monday nights at 7:30 o'clock the group is directed by Scott Shoen, representing the Los Angeles City Bureau of Music and pianist is Mrs. Marguerite Hogue of Torrance.

On Monday evening, March 14, John McLaren, noted baritone, will be guest soloist.
