

'SHOW BOAT' OPENS AT GREEK THEATER

Gene Mann, managing director of the Greek Theater opened his fourth annual summer season Monday, with America's greatest musical production, "Show Boat" with the original star, Charles Winninger, in the role of Captain Andy Hawks.

Charles Winninger created this role in the first Broadway presentation of "Show Boat" in New York in 1927 at the Zeigfeld Theater. It received such acclaim from theatergoers that within a few weeks it was grossing $50,000 per week.

"Show Boat" was adapted from Edna Ferber's novel by Jerome Kern who wrote the never-to-be-forgotten music. The masterful script and lyrics were turned out by Oscar Hammerstein II.

Other principals featured in "Show Boat" are Sammy White, Evelyn Wyckoff, Terry Saunders, Collette Lyons, Jack Daley, Ruby Dandridge, Kathryn Sheldon, Gale Peterson and Charles Fredericks who portrays the romantic party of Ravenal, the gambler.

"Show Boat" is limited to a two week stay. No matinee nor Sunday performances will be given.

Immediately following this first musical attraction will be "Annie Get Your Gun" starring Gertrude Niesen, opening on July 18.

OLD TIMER BACK . . . Charles Winninger, original star of the first New York production of "Show Boat" is appearing on the stage of the Greek Theatre, Los Angeles, for two weeks in his same role of the fabulous Captain Andy who piloted "Show Boat" through fame and fortune in America's musical history.

GLEAMING SILVER, NAIL POLISH, TOO

Let's be grumpy, let's rebel— you, from your weekly silver who likes polishing silverware? It ruins your manicure, it turns your fingers black, it takes forever and a day, stains the kitchen sink, and then, to cap the climax, it seems that the week after you've done the job you have to do it all over again!

Summer is coming, in—the weekends are long and bright and it's a rare woman indeed who doesn't want to play hooky from housework.

Yes, it's true, meals go on forever and families have to eat with silverware, but wouldn't it be nice to know that something has finally been done to save you, from your weekly silver polishing stint?

One of America's oldest manufacturers of fine silverware, Oneida Ltd., has just perfected a new type of chemically treated cloth for lining all their silver chests, which means that your silverware will remain miraculously free of tarnish. The cloth (called Kenized) absorbs the tarnish producing elements from the air inside the chest and yet, despite its chemical action, it will remain rich and new looking as when it was first put inside the chest. More than 4 years of research by Oneida Ltd. scientists were needed to develop this Kenized Cloth.

SUMMERTIME THOUGHT . . . There's music in the tinkle of ice cubes of frozen fruit juice bobbing in glasses of aromatic tea. Sliced oranges and lemons, cinnamon sticks and mint give it life and color, and a silver, long-handled spoon stirs these fragrant seasonings right into the heart of your summer drink. A mid-afternoon treat, iced tea (or coffee served with slightly sweetened cream) and chilled sandwiches of cheese and water-cress, and small cookies, take the edge off hunger and still leave room for dinner served on a terrace or porch. The silver pattern is Morning Star.
