NOW DARLING, IS IT MY FAULT THE BEACH WAS CROWDED TODAY?

OPEN DOORS CAN CAUSE STORE OWNERS TROUBLE

During the first three weeks of the year 1948, police have discovered and reported to the owners of stores and shops 18 cases where doors and windows were left open during the night.

Police Chief John Stroh stated that this carelessness is an invitation for trouble and that merchants should designate one person with the responsibility of locking up each night. A rigid routine should be followed so that no detail will be overlooked, he said. Stroh recommended that at least one light be left on in each store or shop during the night. He stated that the best place for a light is directly in front of the safe or strong box and should be clearly visible from the street. Hiding of the safe in some remote corner of the store is another invitation to trouble.

Students at Fern Avenue School Visit Local Bank

Pupils of Mrs. Dorthea Balloch's third grade class at the Fern Avenue school have been making personal visits to community and commercial buildings since the opening of school in September in an attempt to gain an answer to the question "What does our community do for us?"

J. W. Post of the Torrance National Bank opened the doors to the pupils before the regular banking hours and allowed the children to see the operation of a bank at first hand.

Jackie Hedberg's father, owner of a grocery store, hosted the children one morning when the pupils visited the store making small purchases for their parents and paying particular attention to the financial transaction. Each student received a free candy bar before leaving.

Other trips were made to the new Catholic school at Carson and Acadia streets, a picnic at Mrs. Robert Lingo's, and train switching areas.

Self-Expression In Composition Urged In School

In an effort to carry out an effective language arts program in the Torrance Junior High School every child is given opportunities to express himself in the various types of written composition, according to Earl W. Eckert, principal.

For instance, Mrs. Esther Crandall's seventh grade class, in connection with their social studies unit on transportation, is writing business letters to the different transportation facilities in order that each may plan an imaginary trip," Eckert said. "They will secure schedules and other data; then they will plan their imaginary route of travel."

"After the Christmas holidays, the seventh grade class of Miss Louise Robbins learned the proper form of writing thank-you notes for gifts received. To secure information about certain industries they have written business letters, too.

"Book reports provide another excellent means for expression in our written language. Howard Hulzing's reading classes also keep cards on their book reports.

"Along with their study of oil, Darrel H. Slocum's class is writing a composition which will relate their findings in this particular field.

"In the eighth grade class of Frank Bentwood there is a concentrated study of the securing of facts about some phase of the social studies work, of the outlining and the organizing of these facts, and of the bringing of the facts together in an orderly presentation.

Parents May Attend Junior High Programs

Parents are invited to attend all assemblies of Torrance Junior High School, and the next one will be held at 9 a.m. today, sponsored by Frank Bentwood's room, it has been announced.

The student body presented its third assembly on Jan. 15, prepared and sponsored by Mrs. Vera Robertson's room. The program consisted of school talent. Leroy Moore played two selections on the concertina. Patricia Dunmyer gave a tap dance; Ann Olsen's students gave chorus dance numbers; Joann Boss, piano solo.

The Drama Club gave a humorous skit entitled "Bargain Day at the Photographer's." The following students took the character parts: Photographer, Chuckie Stewart; Mrs. Pratt, a fat lady, Eva Mahaffey; Miss Squiggs, an old maid, Della Sue Phipps; Miss Caldwell, a stylish lady, Elizabeth Felix; Tim and Jim, small brothers, Clyde Justice and Velden Geary; George Craft, a bashful young man, Jimmie Rathbun; Mary O'Toole, an Irish maid, Loretta Hill; Mr. Boggs, a farmer, James Ford; Mrs. Boggs, Patsy Thomas; Joe Boggs, Paul Gilbert; Susie Boggs, Georgia Turnage.

The costumes were collected from the discarded garments the children found at home.

The Dramatic Clubs meet twice a week as do all the other clubs. Students are not taken out of regular classes of "reading" and arithmetic, so that all dramatic work given in the auditorium never interrupts routine classes.

EYE COLORING

Blue eyes and black eyes contain exactly the same coloring pigment, known as melanin, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica. The difference in color is the result of the way in which light is reflected from the surfaces of the fibers which make up the iris. Black eyes also have more melanin than blue eyes do.

STATE LION KILLERS

State trappers killed 24 mountain lions during the month of December, most of them in the northern portion of the state. The lions were taken in the following counties: Humboldt, eight; Shasta, four; Glenn, Tehama and San Diego, two each, and Kern, Los Angeles, Alameda, Sierra, Mendocino and Tulare, one each.

Even though cars are equipped with oil filtering devices, the necessity for occasionally dropping the oil pan and removing the emulsified substance that collects at the bottom has not entirely passed. This item of car care should be attended to at least once yearly. The screen and pan should be cleaned out, thoroughly dried and then replaced.

The Naval Air Transport Service cancelled only one scheduled flight on its "Hotshot" line, which gives direct service from Washington, D. C. to San Francisco, in its first year of operation of twice-daily flights. On that occasion runways at National Airport, Washington, D. C., were so heavily iced that a landing was considered too dangerous to attempt.

FISHING PERMIT

Surf anglers who wish to fish the productive stretch of beach closed by the Camp Pendleton Marine base down toward San Diego may obtain permission by writing the Provost Marshall, Camp Pendleton, giving your name, address, citizenship, sports club affiliation and any other pertinent data concerning yourself. When your application has been approved, you will receive a pass by mail to enter the area. There are some good croaker holes on that beach, men.
