EVA "TOOTS" YARBROUGH

The qualifying round came to a flying finish last Sunday night with bowlers competing right up to the last minute. After the final count, we find that 65 bowlers qualified in Torrance Bowl and will now compete in the quarter finals.

Along about 12:30 Saturday night, the boys bowling a match game on alleys 1 and 2 found themselves without spectators. Everyone was busy watching little Margie Worsham put some of the hot-shots to shame. She literally burned up the alleys with games of 234-220 and 200. For a beautiful 654 series. Adding a 90-pin spot to that, she easily won the lovely dresser set offered as a prize to the woman bowling the highest series in the state singles this week by National Home Appliance. Ace Vaughan rolled a nice 677 series, added a 22-pin spot for a total of 699 and took home a beautiful table model radio given as the prize to the man with the high series in the State Singles, also through the courtesy of National Home Appliance.

Rogers Liquors rolled a 2 to 1 victory over Frank's Signal Service for a 7-game lead in the Tuesday 800 scratch. Pioneer Cafe and Moose Lodge hold second and third places in that order.

Fred Dupont was the star with 234-582. Then came E. A. McBride with 218, Joe Donnet, with 213, and F. Sande with 211. Comet Paint and Decorating finally broke the tie with Ady's Texaco and moved to a one-game lead, but just as was predicted, Doc's Fountain moved right in for a tie with Ady's for second place.

Gordon Arrasmith aided Clyde and Carl's to a 2-to-1 victory with his 224 game. A. T. Yound helped pull Doc's Fountain through with 217. Bob Levellyn was a main factor in the Lo-mart Market shut-out victory with his 215, and Hank Lockwood's 212 was a big help to Worker's Cafe 2-to-1 victory.

The Buckeroos opened the door in the Wednesday 6:45 mixed and Star Furniture moved closer to chop the Bucks' lead down to seven games.

Archie Calline led a Paradise Hit to a 2-to-0 victory over the Buckeroos with 223-212-172-607. Richfield Service moved into a one-game lead over Victory Trailer in the Wednesday 8:45 mixed. Nita Wilson held the spotlight for the evening by rolling high game of 200 and a 501 series.

Selma Cleaners dropped three games to Walt's Cafe in the Thursday 876 Scratch and let Schwartz Clothiers move within four games of them. Six boys got hep with big 600 series. Ace Vaughan led the parade with 202-243-232-677. Next in order were Al Coast with 233-617, Walt Morris Sr. with 222-233-615, Tom McNeil 204-216-612, John McKee 230-204-605, and Dal Wasden 224-605.

New Miracle Mile Seen For Southwest Area will be established along 101 highway just inside of Torrance, according to a survey just released by one company planning to inaugurate such a development.

The area will be backed by residents of the several tracts being developed in the immediate neighborhood as well as by South Redondo Beach, Hollywood Riviera, Palos Verdes, Rolling Hills and other residential areas where commercial expansion is not permitted, it was said.

Hollywood Riviera long has been seeking greater municipal services from Torrance, but it appears that like the rest of Torrance it is due to get the fire and police department protection, the new schools, street work and door-to-door postal service to which the area is entitled, it was said.

The "Miracle Mile of Torrance" outlying shopping center already is "on paper" with two community developers, and others in the neighborhood who have been contacted are agreeing to the program due to the ideal location for such a shopping area to serve the widespread area of Southwest Torrance, Hollywood Riviera, Palos Verdes, Rolling Hills and South Redondo Beach.

Gardena Buses Seek To Serve Torrance Area

A move to provide bus transportation to and from Gardena's central shopping area for some 2,500 persons residing in the area northeast of Torrance, was started last week with the circulation of petitions requesting additional service from Gardena Municipal Bus Lines.

The Gardena Valley Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the new route which is in the normal Torrance trading area, it was said.

The proposed route of the new line would come into the Torrance area as far south as Western avenue and 190th st. It also would serve the area east to Figueroa and north to Gardena boulevard.

Not only residents of this area but employees of the Harvey Machine Tool Company and a number of small manufacturing plants in the area would be served by the line, the Gardena Chamber pointed out. Besides, the route would pass the huge Alcoa property which was recently purchased as a steel roll mill by Columbia Steel Corporation. This plant will eventually employ 1,200 workers, according to an official announcement.

There are 200 families housed in trailer camps in the area, the Gardena Chamber estimated, all of whom are potential customers of Gardena merchants if adequate transportation is provided.

The south Figueroa area was formerly served by the Torrance bus line, but this service has been discontinued. Many requests for bus service have been received by the Chamber.

Senior Tea Honors Graduates, Mothers

Members of the mid-winter graduating class of Torrance High School and their mothers were honored at an attractively appointed tea in the school library Tuesday afternoon.

Gene Sterling, class president, as master of ceremonies, presented Miss Nancy Ann Whyte, Bill Morgan, Jack Koshak and Mr. George Zavislan in a delightful diversified program of music.

A springtime theme was followed in the decorations with arrangements of yellow blossoms throughout the library and yellow candles on the lace covered tea tables. Pouring were Mrs. A. C. Turner, high school PTA president, and Mrs. W. J. Stirling, mother of the class president.

Credit for the decorations and serving arrangements went to members of the Senior B's.

Winter Torrance High Class Graduated at Ceremony Here

The winter class of 1948, Torrance High School, graduated on Thursday evening, Jan. 29, in the high school auditorium.

Beginning with the traditional "Pomp and Circumstance," the class of '48 started its last assembly before parents and friends. The invocation was given by the Rev. H. Wesley Roloff, minister of Central Evangelical-United Brethren Church of Torrance. Gene Sterling, class president, welcomed the audience in behalf of his class and then presented to Lloyd W. Waller, principal, the class gift check for the purchase of a speaker's stand for the school's use.

At the conclusion of the gift presentation, the mixed chorus of Torrance High School gave "Thanks Be To God," "Deep Purple" and "Stout Hearted Men" under the guidance of George Zavislan, director. John Turner, class vice-president, spoke on the subject, "Civilization's Challenge to Youth," and William Morgan followed with "The Warsaw Concerto" as his piano solo.

Guest speaker for winter class was Dr. William C. Jones, president of Whittier College, who gave his address on "We Hold These Truths." His address was heralded as one of the most interesting ever presented at a commencement program.

Following Dr. Jones' speech, the Torrance High School orchestra, under the direction of Abe Milstein, gave a musical selection.

The Bausch and Lomb Award for science achievement was given to John Turner, while Gene Stirling and Beverly Crook received the service awards for the outstanding Senior boy and girl.

Waller then presented the winter class of 1943 to W. K. Cobb, superintendent of schools of Redondo Union High School District, as acceptable candidates for graduation. J. Robert Black, board of trustees, president, presented the long-awaited diplomas and then, all together, the seniors changed their tassels to show their full graduation.

Rev. Patrick J. McGuinness of the Catholic Church of the Nativity, gave the benediction, after which the new alumni sang for the last time, the Alma Mater.

After the recessional the class
