

Picnic Dinner,
Other Activities
Told By NBPW

Torrance City Park was the scene of an enjoyable picnic dinner Monday evening when Mrs. Joan Davis served as hostess chairman for members and guests of Torrance Club National Business and Professional Women.

Salad, cold meats, baby lima beans, French bread, coffee and dessert were enjoyed by an enthusiastic group of club members and guests.

The last business meeting, presided over by the newly elected president, Mrs. Emma Roberts was an interesting session in St. Andrew's Guild Hall.

Highlights of the evening included a report by the president of the recent state convention at Santa Cruz and reports from First Vice President Harriet Spencer, delegate and from Frances Clark, who told details of the Fort Worth breakfast meeting. Arvilla Owens gave a comprehensive report on News service and radio programs.

Adie Parks, parliamentarian, outlined duties of chairman and the years' plans for workshops were made.

Hostesses for the business session were Harriet Spencer and Zada Ramsey.

Mrs. Roberts was a gracious hostess recently when she entertained her officers at an attractively appointed Spanish dinner in her home, 1609 Anapola avenue.

A low arrangement of pansies and lighted yellow tapers created a pretty centerpiece for the dining table set of 12.

BLOOD DERIVATIVES IN USE

Several important blood derivatives, besides whole blood and plasma, are now in medical use. For instance, more than 1,000,000 doses of immune serum globulin have been distributed by Red Cross to physicians and hospitals to aid in combating measles.

To-Lo-Ha Club
Reports Party
at Phillips Home

The San Pedro home of Mrs. Olive Phillips was the scene of an enjoyable party Friday evening when members of the To-Lo-Ha Club were entertained.

Bunco furnished diversion for the group with Mesdames Luella Elder and Margaret Pullman as prizewinners. A door prize, gift of Mrs. Marjorie Lovell was received by Mrs. Sally Jenkins.

Highlight of the evening was the celebration of birthdays of members whose natal dates had occurred during the month. Celebrants Mesdames Ines Ambill, Elder and Jenkins were presented attractive ceramic vases. A parody of the "Birthday Song" was sung by the trio, added a hilarious note to the festivities.

FOOD SALE WILL SERVE AS BENEFIT FOR SORORITY

Many varieties of home-made foods including delicatessen dishes and pastries will be offered to those attending the benefit food sale Friday at Hugo Schmidt's Meat Market.

This week's date has been agreed upon after two previous postponements, and the committee in charge wish to remind the public that funds received from the benefit will be used for charitable purposes.

MR. AND MRS. CLYDE W. PURCELL
Tell Nuptial Vows . . .

Miss Mary Lou Duncan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Duncan of 1338 Carson street, became the bride of Clyde W. Purcell of 2318 Torrance boulevard, in an eight o'clock evening wedding service solemnized at the Harbor City Foursquare church Saturday.

Both young people are affiliated with the Harbor City church and the members and friends of the couple gathered in the Crusader Chapel following the ceremony to honor them. The Crusaders presented them with a large three-tiered cake which the bride cut for more than one hundred and fifty guests. This was followed by the presentation of many gifts for the newly-married couple.

The chancel of the church was decorated with gladiolus and other summer blooms for the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Marion Piles, church pastor.

Gowned in white faille fashioned with tight bodice, sweetheart neckline, peplum and full skirt cut entrain, the bride was given in marriage by her father. Her fingertip veil was attached to a tiara of seed pearls and the small orchid bouquet was surrounded by white carnations with long white streamers.

Choosing marquisette in pastel shades, the bride's three attendants completed their attire with lace mitts in matching colors and each wore a small marline cap and carried nosegay bouquets of pink carnations.

Miss Colleen Sudduth, in pale green, was maid of honor and the two bridesmaids, Miss Norma Lee Duncan, sister of the bride, wore pink and Kathryn Sudduth chose blue.

Best man was Charles Webb and ushers were A. J. Knight and Harold Duncan, brother of the bride.

With Miss Pauline Hancock accompanying, Mrs. Dale Snyder sang "I Love You Truly" and Mrs. Paul Hazelbaker sang "Because" preceding the ceremony and during the service Mrs. Hazelbaker sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, a graduate of Torrance High School, class of summer '47, is employed in the Los Angeles office of the Prudential Life Insurance Co. Mr. Purcell, who served with the armed forces during the world war No. 2, is employed by a trucking company.
