Mrs. J. J. Millard Is Named Director of Harbor Area PTA

Several features entirely new to the direction and administration of Tenth District PTA have come out of the recent special meeting of the 1948-49 elected officers, bureau managers, and council presidents called by Mrs. Marvin Owen, who will, on July 1, enter office as Tenth District's new president.

The first new departure is the appointment of Mrs. J. J. Millard of Torrance as Harbor Regional Director, and Mrs. Harry Eekes as Valley Director. These two new directors will act as Tenth District PTA centers of information, guidance, and instruction in their respective areas. They will arrange for PTA conferences as requested or needed in these localities far from "metropolitan downtown." The new liaison officers will bring district PTA leaders to the far flung areas rather than calling large numbers of "local" mothers into town and away from their homes.

Ideas, supplies, and working materials will all be directly available, through these two new directors, to their neighboring unit and council PTA members.

It is hoped the new plan will save hundreds of mothers much traveling time and telephone expense.

Another suggested change already ratified by the district officers, is an all day session at each district board meeting throughout next year. This will enable department heads to meet with their chairmen at luncheon and chairmen to present reports at the 1 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. session.
