'Gray Ladies' of Red Cross Have Interesting Origin, Story

How did the Gray Ladies, volunteer Red Cross Workers, earn that name? Many local women who have and are serving as Gray Ladies in veteran hospitals of the Los Angeles area, may like to know the history of the name and these facts, dispatched from Washington by Jane Eads:

Patients who came from battlefields of the first World War to Walter Reed hospital, Washington, dubbed the volunteer Red Cross workers "Gray Ladies" because they wore gray dresses and gray veils. The name stuck. The organization of Gray Ladies now is 30 years old and has more than 25,000 members who contribute their time and services in 851 hospitals throughout the United States.

Los Angeles Women's Symphony Orchestra To Present Concert

The new Los Angeles Women's Symphony orchestra will be heard in a colorful summer concert Friday, July 16 at 8:15 p.m. in Thorne Hall, Occidental College.

Featured soloists will be Xenia Chasman, sensational young California concert pianist, who will play Chopin's Concerto No. 1 in E Minor for piano and orchestra; and Olive Mae Beach, distinguished young soprano who will sing arias for soprano and orchestra including Mozart's Dove Song from "The Marriage of Figaro," and Air de Lia from Debussy's "The Prodigal Son."

An all-girl orchestra, the organization of 45 members proudly possesses a brilliant young woman conductor, Ruth Haroldson, widely known also as a concert violinist, and for several years professor of violin at Whittier College. Eminent known as a conductor, she has achieved a fine reputation in a field usually reserved for men. Miss Haroldson selected the present personnel from the foremost musicians in Los Angeles, and has welded an expressive and flexible ensemble, equal to all demands of concert literature. Critics have acclaimed the conductor and the symphony for "fine balance, technical brilliance, emotional depth and scholarly interpretation."

LuRuth Anderson is assistant conductor.

Ten Day Extension Is Announced for L. A. Art Exhibit

The "1948 Exhibition by Artists of Los Angeles and Vicinity" which opened at the Los Angeles County Museum on May 14 last, to run until June 30, is to be continued until July 11. This is a courtesy to members of the "Western Association of Art Museum Directors," who will hold their annual convention at the Los Angeles County Museum July 8, 9 and 10. More than 96,000 persons have visited the exhibition since its opening. A total of 22 works of art, including pieces in every category have been sold at prices ranging from $10.00 to $250.00.

The exhibition contains a total of 258 works of art, 133 oils, 55 water colors, 35 drawings, 17 prints and 18 pieces of sculpture.

Legion Auxiliary To Elect Officers At Meeting Monday

Election of officers will highlight the regular meeting of the auxiliary of Bert S. Crossland Post No. 170 set for Monday evening, July 12 in St. Andrew's Guild Hall.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Gertrude Boyle, vice president, will conduct the meeting and election. Mrs. Boyle asks a full attendance.

Expansion of the Gray Ladies has not been confined to federal hospitals. More and more community institutions are finding Gray Ladies' services of value. An outstanding phase of their work today is with crippled and hospitalized children.

Every year more than 1,000,000 children are admitted to hospitals in this country. Hospital officials estimate that 40 percent of the child patient's day is taken up with physical care, leaving 60 percent of his time free.

Red Cross volunteers help keep hospitalized children calm and quiet. They know that play, intelligently directed, can serve as preventive medicine. It directs the child's attention from himself and his ills to new creative ideas.

In Baltimore, Gray Ladies are serving at the Children's hospital school. Ten little patients are completely encased in "iron lungs." Gray Ladies feed them—it takes an hour for each one. They read to them, cheer them, ease the demanding tasks of the nurses.

Child patients in New York's Bellevue hospital play musical games and join in group singing at weekly parties given by Gray Ladies. Adolescent boys in the psychopathic wards look forward to weekly movies shown by the volunteers. Gray Ladies are teaching leather tooling, oven clay modeling, spatter painting, typing, music and sewing to young patients in the Lillian Taylor school for physically handicapped children in Galesburg, Ill.

In Los Angeles, Gray Ladies have contributed much to the welfare of the hospitalized veteran—reading to him, writing letters, doing errands for him such as buying gifts for his folks at home. Gray Ladies from Torrance have been assisting materially in contributing to the comfort of patients at Los Angeles County Harbor General Hospital and the Children's Orthopedic Hospital, Los Angeles.

The annual graduation of Red Cross Gray Ladies, completing their training courses preparatory to accepting assignment, was held last week at Los Angeles chapter house, 1200 South Vermont avenue.

A total of 109 women received their official certificates and are now volunteering at least one day per week at the Veterans Administration hospitals in the territory served by the Red Cross chapter. Other Gray Ladies have taken assignments at the Orthopedic Hospital, according to Anne Martin, Gray Lady Corps chairman.

Today's bride is practical. Her wedding gown may double as a dancing dress later on. She may want to be modern with cuts of the train, and may even dye the gown a pastel tint. But what's to prevent her from saving it for her daughter, if she prefers?

The wedding ring, symbol of love and unity, this year runs more to diamonds, with the narrowest of bands.

Every bride can be individualistic. She may choose between regal and dignified lines in her gown to fashions with long, tight sleeves and princess design. There are short-sleeved, round-necked styles, too. She may have a floor-length veil of old lace, or tiers upon tiers of tulle-and-lace. Or she may want to be modern with a headress of tulle-and-flowers. In California, fresh flower and tulle halos have been chosen by many a bride and her bridesmaids.

LOVELY BRIDE . . . The former L. Lenete Preble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Preble of 1706 W. 265th street, became the bride of C. Wayne Collier of Wilmington at impressive services held recently at the Wayside Chapel. Mr. and Mrs. Collier will reside in San Luis Obispo upon their return from Grand Canyon where they are spending their honeymoon.

Fashion Looks Come and Go—Nuptial Gown Tradition Stays

Loveliest of all fashion traditions is the wedding gown, which, though old looks and new looks may come and go, remains basically unchanged through the ages. The wedding gown's purpose now and always has been, to make the bride beautiful and radiant as an angel on her wedding day.

This summer, wedding gowns are approaching their pre-war elegance. They are as romantic as ever, and maybe more so because of today's trend toward natural loveliness. Shimmering satin, from a creamy shade to gleaming white, and ancestral lace remain the favorites for formal church rites, and organza and chiffons are close runners-up.

South Bay Fuchsia Society Reports Interesting Meet

The South Bay branch of the National Fuchsia Society of America met Thursday evening at Grant Community Hall, Redondo Beach for a regular monthly meeting. Mrs. M. M. Cornbleth, president, conducting.

Following the reports of officers and chairman Mrs. Cornbleth announced that the resignation of Arline Stoddard, Sunshine chairman, was accepted with regret. Mrs. Leslie Grier was appointed to fill the vacancy.

Ede Brod, membership chairman, introduced three new members, Jean Williams, Margaret Fenn, Ruth Paisley and presented the many guests. Mrs. Joseph Bader, Helen Garcia, Edna Elpper and Gwen Trefethern, officers of the California Fuchsia Society were among the guests.

Minne Holman, director, gave a brief report of the board meeting at the National. Fay Grier, flower show chairman, gave a short report of the recent annual flower show at Pasadena and exhibited the special award ribbon conferred.

Much credit was given Fay Grier, C. A. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Alec Poggi, Minne Holman and W. E. Walton for their part in making the show a success.

Mrs. Cornbleth announced the South Bay Garden Club will have a flower show in the Pier Avenue School gymnasium, Hermon Beach on July 24, 25. The South Bay branch of the National Fuchsia Society will have a group exhibit. Members and friends are invited to have individual entries also.

In the absence of the expected speaker, Anderson called on Walton to talk on tuberous begonias. Walton demonstrated transplanting from flat to wooden tub and gave an instructive discourse on the culture and care of tuberous begonias. He also gave his formula for potting in a scholarly manner. Roundtable discussions followed with Mrs. Cornbleth, Anderson and Walton taking active part.

A board meeting will be held in the garden of Mrs. Kristine Coffey, 18320 Greville, El Nido on Tuesday, July 13 at 8 p.m. Phone FR 4667.

Lloyd M. Fow won the door prize, a flowering yellow calla. Walton and Homer Hickman conducted the plant sale with Mrs. C. Haase at the surplus plant table.

Following adjournment, ice cream, cookies, tea and coffee were served by the charming hostess and her capable committee.

BREAD-MAKING, OTHER CULINARY ARTS ARE STILL POPULAR IN MODERN HOMES. Refuting a popular belief that bread-baking, cake-making, canning, preserving and allied activities in the home kitchen are fast becoming lost arts, Los Angeles County Fair will return Sept. 17 to the Exposition Park in Pomona. Officials predict a larger and more comprehensive display than ever before. The department will afford 250 different opportunities for women, and men too, for that matter, to show the results of their skill while participating in friendly competition for the cash awards and the coveted prize ribbons. The department will occupy a prominent place in the spacious domestic arts building. A million people are expected to visit the fair this fall and a large proportion of them will view the tempting exhibits. A premium book containing the various classifications, full directions for entering and all other necessary information is now available. Interested persons may direct a card to Los Angeles County Fair, Pomona, mentioning the domestic arts department. These are separate books for different sections of the fair. Classifications include various kinds of bread, such as white, raisin, Boston and ordinary brown bread, orange bread, nut bread, ginger bread, rolls and muffins; a dozen different kinds of cookies, 20 varieties of cakes including the currently popular chiffon cake and five different candies. Pies are not included. The entire culinary division will be for amateurs only. Teachers and those who commercialize their work are not eligible.

Townsend Club No. 1 Sets Pot Luck Party For Friday Evening. Members of Torrance Townsend Club No. 1 will gather in Torrance Women's clubhouse for a 6:30 pot-luck supper Friday evening, July 8.
