THE FOOD KING MARKET
... Grand Opening Sale Starts Today

Food King Market Gets Big Going-over in Preparation for Three-day Grand Opening Event

Jovial, rotund Dick Allan last night put the final touches to his work. The cans of condensed milk stood in unwavering stacks at the end of the canned food counter; the vegetable cases gleamed coldly in anticipation of the fresh greens which were to arrive in the morning. The refrigerated meat cases were stocked with tender slices of all types.

Dick Allan's Food King Market, at the corner of Carson street and Arlington avenue, was ready for its Grand Opening.

Scheduled to start today and continue through Saturday, the Food King opening will be accompanied by a large-scale sale event, Allan declared.

"This will be a sort of 'get-acquainted' event," Allan said. Jimmy Church is in charge of the Food King's meat department, and Al Oddo, a produce man of long standing, heads up the vegetable department.

Heading the list of new and modern devices installed with the complete renovation of the market are the new refrigerated units. Meat coolers are brand new and are designed to give the customer a full view of all possible selections. Refrigerated vegetable bins will keep produce at garden freshness.

ANSWER

ONE QUESTION

The most intelligent human being on earth knows but a fraction of all there is to know. How then, can you or I condemn a man for knowing less about building a bridge, a house, a mouse trap, or fortune than we know. And yet we do.

Florence Nightingale knew little about social life but she did know the horrors of the battlefield; her little sphere of knowledge gave us Red Cross. Shakespeare was considered a lazy fool but he will live as long as literature survives. I doubt if an Atom Bomb scientist, wise as he is, could bake a cake or the richest man in the world could successfully defend himself in a Court. Before we condemn another answer one question, how am I superior? Answer that question and you will be his brother.
