Attention, Editor:

It is very seldom that I take it upon myself to write letters to the editors of newspapers. I happen to know that your paper is and always has been helping to guard the welfare of the community, so here is the beef.

Tell it to the people and I believe we can, as a group of citizens, do something about it.

Valentine's Day has just passed and with its passing it has brought to light the fact that some merchants have obscene and unfit comic valentine greetings piled along with those which are sold to children, with the result that some of these young children have purchased said valentines unsuspectingly and, not understanding the wording on them, have given them to school-mates for fun and have caused unfair embarrassment to many mothers and children as well.

Now, if the merchants must vend this filthy type of greeting, I will suggest that they keep them on their "spice shelf" and not have them in reach of our very young boys and girls.

I have moved against this sort of thing before and been successful in curbing it with the help of the decent people of the community, and will see to it that a protest is launched, but I hope many of your readers will join me and help clean up the shelves in Torrance where children buy their reading and greeting matter.

I know you are with me and will bring this to the attention of your reading public.

If anyone wishes to contact me regarding this, I will be happy to give them the proof that it has happened. Furthermore, you may print my name in big letters if you wish.

Thank you,
JOHN D. GOLDSMITH,
Torrance citizen for five years

Gentlemen: Enclosed you will find your set to help him locate the mail "Weather Report" (a clipping of box in the thick morning fog of the weather forecast) for Feb. 1st Thursday morning. However, by noon the fog burned off.

If you will stick your head and the day turned into one of outside you can see it is just "sunny skies" as predicted by the opposite of your "guess." our weather forecaster—the U. S. National Supply Company's "Fire Station" was 65 degrees. Your weather "forecaster" had S. Weather Bureau at the Los Angeles International Airport. The high temperature for the day as recorded atop the Torrance Fire Station was 76 degrees. Undoubtedly Mr. "guess" was 76 degrees. Mr. Brookhaus mailed his letter on Tues. Touche, Mr. Brookhaus, his way to work and undoubt-touche!

In an endeavor to promote the general welfare of the Harbor Area, the Shoestring Community Association directed a letter on February 15th to Dr. A. J. Stoddard, Superintendent of Los Angeles Schools, protesting the diversion of funds originally intended for the Harbor Area, but now planned to be partially used in building a carport at the Board of Education headquarters.

Need for an auditorium at Halldale Avenue School as well as Junior High School to serve the Narbonne High School District was stressed. In addition, needed repairs and equipment for not only Narbonne High School, but other schools in the Harbor Area, was called to Dr. Stoddard's attention.

We deem our action is in the interest of an ever-growing area and solicit your consideration in bringing to the attention of your readers. Any further support and cooperation you may render in this endeavor will be appreciated.

Yours very truly,
M. D. HIEBERT
President Shoestring Community Association
