Organ Prelude Planned for Palm Sunday

Palm Sunday services will be held in The First Methodist of Torrance next Sunday beginning with the church school at 9:45 a.m., according to Rev. Clarence E. Miller, pastor.

The Palm Sunday worship service is scheduled for 11 a.m., with the organ prelude by the minister of music, Vernon Robinson. The sermon will be delivered by Rev. Miller on the theme: "Two Wash Basins."

There has been a substantial increase in the church school attendance the past month. This increase is especially large in the younger children's departments and in the young-adult class for parents. The young adult class is taught by Charles Wallace and offers opportunity for young married people to meet with other parents and discuss problems pertaining to the spiritual needs of children and the Christian home.

Next Sunday is Easter Sunday and to provide opportunity for all who wish to attend the Methodist Church, three services are being planned with the first scheduled to begin at 9:30 a.m., with a duplicate morning service at 11 a.m. Then there will be an evening service at 7:30 p.m. At this service the full choir under the direction of Vernon Robinson will sing special Easter music. There will be an evening sermon by the minister. Also baptism of infants, children and adults at each service. Arrangements for this service should be made with the minister.
