

Mrs. Jamieson Heads YWCA Building Advisory Group

Formation of an advisory board composed of Torrance citizens to help with ideas and problems connected with the construction of a YWCA building in Torrance was announced this week by the joint YWCA-Junior Woman's Club Building Committee.

Setting-up session of the group was held at the library with Mrs. Carl Forkum, building co-chairman, in charge. The board suggested that, if suitable land can be obtained without cost, construction go ahead with the funds now available. The building, the group agreed, should be designed for easy expansion as the need grows and additional funds become available.

Serving on the board are Mrs. N. F. Jamieson, Miss Esther Maxwell, Rev. Cecil J. England, Judge John A. Shidler and Messrs. W. E. Bowen, Sam Levy, John R. Patrick, Dean L. Sears, John Steinbaugh and Roscoe L. Wood.

Representatives on the board from the joint building committee are Mesdames J. P. Montague, Carl Forkum, Philip Jensen, Marvin Kent, Charlotte Lurie and from the San Pedro Area YWCA Board and trustees, Mesdames Elsa Morris and Ivor Geiver.

Bon Voyage Party Fetes Mrs. Clarence L. Ingold

Among the lovely affairs given to compliment Mrs. Clarence L. Ingold, who sails early in June, for Europe, was a beautifully appointed evening party given recently by Mrs. Paul M. Watson in her Adacia avenue home. Assisting as cohostess was Mrs. Harlow P. Dotson.

Bridge furnished diversion for the Bon Voyage party with the honoree and Mrs. Lillian Thorne of Palos Verdes as award winners.

Dainty refreshments were served at the dining table which was appropriately centered with red roses arranged in a lovely white pottery boat in a "sea" of maidenhair fern and delphinium blossoms. Rose-red candles in white tapers completed the pleasing effect and diminutive ship favors repeated the party motif.

During the evening, Mrs. Ingold was showered with personal gifts by the hostesses and Mesdames James E. Hall, Gilbert W. Wagner, Minnie MacEnturf, and Lillian Thorne, all of Palos Verdes; Elsie Dotson, San Francisco; Ray P. Schaefer, Rolling Hills; Ralph Hatton, Los Angeles; and Carl S. Warner, and Irene Smith, of Torrance.

Methodist Rummage

Rummage sale plans have been completed by members of the Torrance Methodist WSCS who have set May 26 and 27 for their two-day ways and means project.

The sale will be conducted in the church parlors, El Prado at Manuel avenue and one of the rooms has been set aside for use of the Young People's Society, whose members also will swell their treasury by participation in the sale.

Ninety-five per cent of the world's nickel is produced in Ontario, Canada.
