Tuesday Night Typing Class Free to Adults

A new free adult class in typing for both beginning and advanced students has just opened its new semester, with classes on Tuesday night from 6:30 to 9:30 in room 205 of Torrance High School. This free class is open to all adults, regardless of residence.

Neil Galluzzo, instructor of the class, treats each student on an individual basis. Beginning students, who are eager to get ahead fast in learning to type and developing speed are given tailor-made exercises and help so that they can proceed in the fastest possible time. More advanced students, who have not typed for 5, 10 or even 20 years, are shown a quick way to come back to their former status and proceed far beyond it.

There are two key-notes to the class—higher income, and more personal enjoyment by the use of typing. Some students want to learn to type for personal use, write personal letters, simple reports, articles and stories. Others would like to know how to type memos, financial statements, business letters.

Reed was at one time a Bakersfield police officer and superintendent of the Kern County Bureau of Identification. He owned a retail business in Torrance before moving to Torrance.

"We will continue to handle the lines of merchandise wanted most by local shoppers, with values and service which will match that offered anywhere," Reed said.

The service department is equipped with thousands of dollars of technical equipment which enables the department to service any brand of radio or television sets.

Besides a large variety of TV sets, the local store also carries refrigerators, radios, electric clocks, toasters, waffle irons and similar household items and business forms.

For this free "one-night-a-week" course in personal and business typing, students are asked to register by going directly to class at its next meeting on Tuesday night at 6:30 in room 205 of Torrance High School.

INSTRUCTOR TO LECTURE AT COLLEGE

Albert S. Karr, El Camino College history instructor, will lecture on "Interpreting World Events" at the first of a series of free public lectures scheduled to be given on Tuesday nights.

at the new El Camino College Campus Center. Karr will speak Tuesday, February 13, at 7:30 p.m.

"The lecture will be an attempt to approach current international problems in the light of historical trends and forces which contribute to them," according to Karr. "Emphasis will be placed upon interpretation and will be geared to the interests of the interested citizen rather than to the academician."

Karr, who is now completing work for his Ph.D. degree at U.S.C., has been a frequent lecturer at local clubs. He studied at the Navy Japanese Language School and spent three and a half years with the Office of Naval Intelligence during World War II.

County Food Costs Show Marked Rise

An indication of the rapid rise in living costs is shown in the monthly report of county institutions of food costs filed with the Board of Supervisors, Supervisor Raymond V. Darby's office reported this week.

The report for October, 1950, the latest month for which figures are available, shows an increase in the price index of food for one month to be 6.3, and a cost increase of $0.043 per meal.

Total meals served at county institutions during the month was 784,049 with a cost per meal of $2.062 and a total expenditure for raw food of $1,617,632 for the month.

The County Hospital reports 296,614 meals served; Rancho Los Amigos, 219,986 meals; Olive View Sanatorium 121,253 meals; Harbor General Hospital, 87,309 meals; Long Beach Hospital 28,860; and two county camps, 50,027 meals.

Drug expenditures for the various county institutions cost $55,561 for the month or an average of $1.564 per patient day and visit, Supervisor Darby's office revealed.

Spent Vacation in Snow

During the interim between semesters, fifteen Palos Verdes College students, accompanied by instructors Janette Nobis, John Howard, and Arthur Adair, journeyed to Mammoth Lake for several days of skiing and other snow sports. Individual Treatment Given to Adults in Two Lampshade Classes

Two free adult classes in lampshades, open to all adults, regardless of residence, will be held each Monday morning at 9 o'clock at the Torrance Episcopal Church, and each Wednesday night at the North Torrance Elementary School at 6:30 o'clock, effective immediately.

All instruction is on an individual basis, and each student is asked to describe her home, her interiors, and her needs, so that she can make inexpensive, attractive "easy-to-read-by" lamps at very low cost. Women with no experience can learn to make lampshades to look like the "bought-in-the-store" variety. The teacher will show the student how she can buy an inexpensive frame, or use an old frame and an old base and make an attractive, luxurious lamp to dress up even the most modest home.

"There is nothing like a lamp to light up the home," says Dorothea LeMenager, instructor of the class. "A lamp lights up the home in many different ways. It lights up the lives of the children by being kind to their eyes and encouraging their studies and their future life. It dresses up the home, so that it is easy to live with each day and night. The lamp dresses up the home so that the neighbors and the world can see a touch of success and a touch of pride of good housekeeping in the owner."

Adults are requested to go directly to class to register at the next meeting—on Monday morning at 9 o'clock at the Episcopal Church or Wednesday night at 6:30 at the North Torrance Elementary School (four blocks East of Crenshaw boulevard and 174th street).

So wonderfully soft, fluffy, sweet-smelling! That's the only way to describe clothes dried in my automatic gas clothes dryer

Automatic Gas Clothes Dryer illustrated is KENMORE. Other leading models include Bendix and Whirlpool.

Laundering is easy now. For any day I choose to wash is fine drying weather with my automatic gas clothes dryer. My bath towels are no longer harsh and out of shape . . . but come out of my dryer soft, fluffy, ready to fold and put away. Sprinkling is unnecessary because I can set the control on my dryer to produce clothes in perfect ironing condition.

There's no more drudgery for me, either. No more carrying heavy baskets to outside lines. No hanging up and taking down. Putting clothes in my dryer is as easy as tossing them in a hamper.

Gas clothes drying is fast! And so economical! The installed price of an automatic gas clothes dryer is lower than that of other types of dryers. The operating cost is also lower with gas . . . only 2¢ to 3¢ per dryer-full.
