Seaside Ranchos

By BETTY LOU SPARKS

Unless the confidant had some new and guaranteed effective relief for a red nose and the aches and pains of the flu, I haven't been a very interested listener this week, but from here and there we hear that those uninfected Seasideers have been going places and doing things this week.

Most talked about from all angles was the wonderful vacation weekend out Seaside camp had in Las Vegas, Nevada. Leaving here Friday afternoon for three days of fun were Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Mewborn, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Roettger, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Spelman and Mr. and Mrs. David Hurford. Although they were guests of Mrs. Roettger's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Cream, they hit all the high spots of the desert resort, including rubbing elbows with Betty Greble, who was in the audience when hubby Harry James' orchestra played there.

Silver flooded the O. R. Hopkin house Tuesday night when a surprise dinner party was given for Russ' father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Foxworthy, Long Beach, to celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary. Congratulations, Mr. and Mrs. Foxworthy.

For those of us unfortunate creatures who were ineligible to attend the Blue and Gold birthday party of the Boy Scout troops 718 and 726 in Torrance the 25th, our many small friends condescendingly gave us the details of a "bang-up" time. Many games and awards were given and a big hot dog and soda pop dinner did not stop with just "seconds." High spot of the evening was the transfer of four Seaside Cub Scouts to the Boy Scout troop, with the Webelos awards. They included Billy Morris, Billy Evans, Tommy Schooley and Billy Gray.

To correct an error in a former column, Mr. Winston Gravola of Seaside Heights is Cubmaster of Troop 726-C, and not assistant as previously announced. He has asked that it be announced that all parents are welcome at the meetings at all times and not to hesitate to come out.

We're awful happy to announce that Patty Merola, our local candidate for "Miss Torrance," is nudging very close to that top position. On Saturday of this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hyder, 23027 Doris Way will be staged a "Let's Have a Torrance Queen From Seaside Ranchos" party. Proceeds from the affair will be given to Pat to help in her campaign. She in turn, of course, will turn the proceeds over to the YWCA building fund. It's a double benefit, so let's all turn out for the evening. All Ranchosites are invited. Although reservations are not necessary, Mrs. Hyder would appreciate a call from those who plan to attend, FRontier 5-1820, is the number to call. Card and other types of games will highlight the evening. Refreshments will be served. Come on, Seaside, let's get out and have a Seaside "Miss Torrance."

It will be turn about March 8 at the Seaside PTA's annual Father's Night as the men take over the program. Our spies tell us that they have a minstrel planned with Harvey Spelman as master of ceremonies and such worthies as Paul Roettger, Bill Schmitz, Paul Barth, Claude Forrel, Ray Hale, Thurston Burman, Bill Beckman and so forth as the Mr. Bones of the chorus. It should really be a riot. Also announced for the evening is the annual election of officers.

A new class in child psychology in which you can discuss specific problems with your teacher, Mrs. Dorothy Law, is being conducted at the Seaside Elementary school. Mrs. Law is well qualified to deal with the subject and the class, consisting of four discussion periods, is receiving enthusiastic reports by those who have joined it. You might call Mrs. Law if you are interested.

Big news for the kiddies is the sale every Monday noon by the Seaside PTA of a hot dog and milk for 20 cents.

The monthly meeting of the Mr. and Mrs. Club of St. Andrews Episcopal church in Torrance, will be held Friday with Mrs. Margaret Roettger and Mrs. Chris Hall, both of Seaside as hostesses. A movie will be shown.
