City Rocked by Truman's Action

copia place, housewife: "I am sorry for President Truman that he had to be the mouthpiece for Congress and therefore be forced to take the rap. MacArthur may have taken too many liberties, but I am sorry it was Truman who had to tell him."

Mrs. Ann Fredericks, 6335 Sharynne lane, housewife: "I think it is terrible. MacArthur was a wonderful man and did a wonderful job in Japan. He knew his business. I have followed him since I was a little girl and have never seen him do anything wrong. Truman spoke out of turn. He is too easily influenced by other nations. It's just too much!"

Mrs. Marie Manning, 1959 Reynosa drive, housewife: "It wasn't a good idea. Of course, I am not up on politics, but it seems to me that MacArthur being in Japan as long as he has, would know more about what's going on over there than Truman. If he wanted to get rid of MacArthur I think it could have certainly been done differently than it was."

Mrs. Joseph Hoole Jr., 17017 Falda avenue, housewife: "Truman probably did the right thing. I don't think our military leaders should go over the heads of their superiors, and I believe that is what MacArthur has done. Generally I am not in sympathy with Truman. In fact, I would like to see a Republican President but I don't think they should run MacArthur. He wouldn't win."

Mrs. Carl Steele, 1320 Coña avenue, mother of Cpl. Duane Steel now in Japan: "I was dumfounded by the news. Naturally my first concern was for my son and, therefore, I will be in accord with any move that hastens the end of the war."

Dick Miller, 1003 Acacia avenue, realtor: "MacArthur was well liked by the Japanese, and the biggest repercussion will be felt in Japan where the people have come to regard the general with high esteem."

William Tolson, 903 Beech avenue, Republican chairman of Torrance and a local realtor: "Basing an opinion on the facts which have been made public, I would say it stinks!"

Mrs. Fred O. Bacon, 1303 Portola avenue whose son, Walter, is with the Marines in Japan: "I think it's terrible. I'm very concerned about how they are going to take it over there."

John Ott, new car dealer and active leader in Democratic campaign circles: "I am a traitorist today."

era section be discontinued.

A score of residents of the hilly residential section packed the Council Chambers Tuesday night to object.

Spelman sought to have the line dropped because it was costing other taxpayers in the city $380 a month to operate the line for an average of less than five passengers per trip.

"Discrimination." "We pay taxes, too," and "No bus line objections of several residents who sought to get a stay of execution for the doomed line."

In a prepared statement Spelman said the line showed a loss of $34,768 in 1950. By adjusting the bus department operation a saving of $10,000 in taxpayer's money will be effected this year, he said.

"There is an old cry often heard about the City Hall. If the need for buses in the area is so great, why don't the people ride them?" Spelman asked.

"We do," claimed the group. One speaker said her daughter used the buses to come home from school when she missed the school bus because she was engaged in extra-curricular activities.

Dr. Kurt Shery, local physician, said medical patients used the line to come to Torrance for treatment.

Another objector pointed out her 84-year old father-in-law was dependent upon the line to get to and from Redondo Beach.

"I must be concerned with the majority. I was elected to represent the entire city of Torrance and although I live in the beach area I can not continue to ask the other taxpayers in the city to underwrite the operation of the line to the tune of $4561 per year," Spelman said.

Failure of a motion to continue the line died for the want of a second and as a consequence the line running from Central Torrance to the Riviera will end at WALTERIA as of Sunday night.
