Reflections

By J. Hugh Sherkey, Jr.

THE PLUS IS FREE

A little store tucked between two larger ones is busy. Know why? The sales people in that little store are more interested in helping their customers choose merchandise that will make them happy than in the immediate profit of a quick sale. It's the plus of interest that makes the difference.

An automobile salesman is highly successful. It would be understandable to find him pushing for an immediate sale; instead, he builds confidence in himself by making his customer's wishes and needs paramount. He doesn't sell, he helps people buy the best car on his lot. The plus is recommended sales from his friends.

A young minister in a Lutheran Mission Church fills his pews every Sunday. His sermons are excellent but the plus is his interest in people, their affairs, troubles, joys, problems. He's a hero to young boys, a friend to teenagers. That's applied Christianity.

The plus in neighborliness is thoughtfulness; the plus in city affairs is honor; the plus in charity is compassion—it's the plus that's free, that brings wealth beyond understanding.

Parents Mark Christening Of Daughter

The christening of their first child, a daughter, Dianne Louise, was the occasion for an enjoyable reception arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Johnson of 250 Sierra street.

Rev. Paul Wenske, pastor officiated at the christening ceremony performed in First Lutheran Church.

Godparents were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Noon of Long Beach. The baby, who was born in Continella Hospital, has two grandmothers, Mrs. Alfred Johnson of Luck, Wis., and Mrs. Frances Taafe of Los Angeles. Her daddy is an engineer employed with North American Aviation.

Large yellow chrysanthemums centered the attractively arranged table where refreshments of coffee and cake were served to Torrance and out-of-town friends of the couple.

The occasion also marked the transfer of the Johnson's members from Trinity Lutheran Church, Hawthorne, to First Lutheran Church here.

Love is a gross exaggeration of the difference between one person and everybody else.
