Missing Spaniel Brings Grief To Little Linda

"Won't somebody please give back my big dog, Spot?"

Nothing else matters; all that little Linda Fitzgibbon wants is her big waterspaniel, Spot, who ventured away from home last week and hasn't been seen since.

Linda, who with her older brother, James, 3½ years, and mother, Mrs. J. W. Fitzgibbon, have searched the whole neighborhood surrounding their house at 1749 Border Ave.

But they can't find Spot. Linda, her mother says, cried herself to sleep for three nights after Spot disappeared. The police, the animal shelter, no one seems to know the whereabouts of Spot.

Torrance Welcomes....

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Rick have moved into a home at 1963 Middlebrook Rd. in Kettler Knolls. The Ricks have no children.

Rick is employed at the Donaco Corp.; they came to Torrance because it is "the cleanest small city in Southern California."

Mrs. Rick is a member of the Eagles Auxiliary, and of course, Rick is an Eagle. They came here from La Crosse, Wis.

The Robert W. Flowers aren't new to Torrance but they have moved into a new home at 1315 Hickory Ave. He is an industrial chemical salesman with a Los Angeles chemical house.

Mr. and Mrs. Flowers came to Torrance because they visited relatives here two years ago, and liked the place. They have one son, Steven, nine months old.

Another newcomer is the Mr. and Mrs. George Hunter family of 2810 Onrado Ave., Torrance Gardens. The Hunters moved from Downey to be closer to husband Hunter's work at the Westchester Branch Post Office.

Two children, Jon, 8, and George Anne, 2½, grace the family.

Hunter, a veteran of Army and Navy service, is a member of Downey Lodge 220, F&M and the South Gate VFW post.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam King Jr. have come from Memphis, Tenn. to a new home at 1810½ Martina Ave. King has been employed at North American aviation for three months. They have no children.

567 SEEK WORK HERE
