Blaze Tactics Related By W. Chartrand

Correct methods of calling the fire department and operating a fire alarm box were described by Walter Chartrand, inspector for the Los Angeles Fire Department, when he spoke before 186th St. Elementary PTA last Wednesday evening.

Over 50 parents were present for the talk and a film entitled "Going to Blazes," which illustrated the operation of a fire department.

Mrs. Mary J. Hawks, principal of the school, spoke on the importance of exercising the voting privilege. She also explained the proposed bond issue and what it will mean to parents and children living in the 10th District PTA.

Attendance records were set by Mrs. Dorothy Saunders' morning kindergarten room for the lower grades and by Mrs. Helen Morton's room for the upper grades.

A social hour followed the meeting. Mes. W. C. Attebery, F. C. Beech, John Clark and Frank Nelson were hostesses.

Members of 186th St. PTA who attended the 10th District meeting and election last Thursday at Belmont High School in Los Angeles were Meses. James A. Gauley and Claud Hill.

Representatives of the PTA unit at the Gardena - Wilmington Council meeting and election March 28 at Wilmington Park School were Meses. James A. Gauley, Claud Hill, Oliver Lang, Bill Davis, Ronald Powell, B. H. Cothran, Raymond Abernathy, Samuel Dow and W. A. Douglas.

YOUNG ORGANIST . . . Patricia Clere of Torrance, long active in the city's musical circles, will present a recital of organ solos today at 2:30 p.m. over radio station KGER (1390). Pat is a pupil of Dr. Peter Slack, musical director and staff organist of KGER. Formerly an organist at First Christian Church in Torrance, she is now playing for Bethany Baptist Church in Long Beach, where she attends Long Beach State College. She was graduated from El Camino College.

Book Review Series Ends

Fanny McEnroe's concluding book review Monday evening at Torrance Woman's Club was full of the hilarity that has marked her series sponsored by the Woman's Club.

Presented by Mrs. Grover C. Van Deventer, Mrs. McEnroe reviewed "A Few Buttons Missing," by Dr. Hervey Fisher of Los Angeles, a retired-82 year old psychiatrist who began his medical practice in 1904. Also on her program were reviews of "Full of Life" by John Sante, "The End of An Affair" by Graham Greene and "Barabbas," Mrs. McEnroe concluded with excerpts from Anita Colby's new beauty book, and a cookbook by "the Brown family." An arrangement of calla lilies centered the refreshment table where Mrs. Van Deventer and Mrs. John Keefer poured.

BETSY ROSS CLUB

Betsy Ross Club will convene at 12:30 p.m. Tuesday, April 15, in Torrance Masonic Temple, 1321 1/2 Sartori Ave. for luncheon and a business meeting. Chairman Jane Stampen and her committee will be in charge of the luncheon.

Representatives of the PTA unit at the Gardena - Wilmington Council meeting and election March 28 at Wilmington Park School were Meses. James A. Gauley, Claud Hill, Oliver Lang, Bill Davis, Ronald Powell, B. H. Cothran, Raymond Abernathy, Samuel Dow and W. A. Douglas.

WOMEN TO SPONSOR CARD PARTY SERIES

First in a series of monthly card parties will be sponsored by Torrance Camp, Royal Neighbors of America, Tuesday, April 15 in the Torrance Woman's Club. Refreshments will be served and awards given to winning players of the various games. Other card parties will follow during the year.
