

Contract for El Camino Library Awarded By Board of Trustees

A beautiful new library will soon be added to the permanent buildings at El Camino College to replace the temporary barracks building now being used.

The Board of Trustees last week awarded contract for the construction to Milton Kaufman Construction Company of Gardena on bid submitted of $406,870.00.

Eight contractors submitted bids for the construction, with costs varying from the low bid of the Kaufman Company to a high bid of $478,500. Construction is scheduled to commence immediately with completion of the building next spring.

Start of this construction marks the ninth permanent building to be built on the 90-acre college site in Alondra Park and will be followed by an additional shops unit, according to college officials.

"Construction of the new library building and additional shops unit will complete the five year building program which has been financed on a pay-as-you-go plan," stated Board President Robert Russell. "According to estimates given us by the County Treasurer's office, the taxpayers of the district have been saved at least $100,000 in interest charges which would have accrued if the building program had been financed by a bond issue."

Continuation of a special college building tax at a reduced rate of 20 cents per $100 of valuation is being proposed.
