Round the Riviera
More Twins Added To Riviera Roster

By JACK and MARY WEBB
 Seems as though our story recently on the number of twins in Hollywood Riviera keeps coming back to us. Another set was brought to light this week. Down at 112 Via la Circula, Esther and Robert Surber care for doubles too. The Surber twins are named Mark and Shirley . . . Mark being the older by just four minutes. They are just eight months old, and together with big sister Janet, 3, they make a quintet of the Surber family. Mark weighed 4 lbs., 14 oz. at birth, just one ounce lighter than his slightly younger twin sister.

Just to prove that the insurance company ads mean what they say, we point to Arthur Newman who normally resides on Via Pasqual. Arthur was atop his house, remodeling his eaves last Sunday, Nov. 2, when he slipped in real insurance-ad fashion, and fell, fracturing his hip. He was operated on the following Tuesday and is expected to remain in the hospital for at least four more days. He is expected to take up his normal residency on Pasqual by the end of the week.

Long after all you TV viewers had snapped off your television last Nov. 4 midnight, the late oil was burning at all the precinct headquarters around the Riviera. We went to bed smugly sure that Eisenhower was in, and while the thought never entered our calloused heads, precinct workers labored on until almost daylight until the final vote was counted. All this late hour counting can have a bit of flavor to it if the national issue remains in doubt. But when you have to go on counting hour after hour, knowing all the while (or at least since before midnight) that your counting is practically extra-ordinary, it takes a bit of fortitude to remain with it. Our thanks to the precinct workers who did this tiring bit of labor; well done.

Those entertainers par excellence, the Jim Hennings on 305 Via Pasqual, had the opportunity to entertain some more this week when friends from the northern country dropped in for a two-day stay. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Pete Ferguson and their son, Eric, who live in Porterville. The Hennings met them during their past vacation at Sequoia National Park, which only goes to show that all summer friendships are not flimsy.

Grand Rapids, Mich., is being honored with the presence of a Riviera this week, as Bill Miller, 112 Via Colusa, visits that city while attending a sales meeting of his company. Florence Miller and all the little Millers are keeping the home fires burning while Bill regales the Michigan citizenry with tall tales of our land by the sea.

Mrs. Madeline Gauthier, 121 Via Colusa, admired her flower beds this week and thereby found a cat. It was a black cat and very sick, lying in the beds in sick bed fashion. Mrs. Gauthier called the Humane Society, who dashed out and pronounced the cat beyond help. The society took the cat away and now Madeline, feeling that the black cat was some local child's pet, wants this column to let the child know what happened to its cat.

Feeling that it's never too early to get some Christmas shopping done, Jim and Marge Greer trekked off to Tijuana, Baja California, Mexico, 11 a.m. Nov. 3, to do some of the same. After looking over the bazaars with careful eye, they decided on hand-knitted shawls of all colors for their gifts to relatives around the country. Which should remind you as it does us, that it's high time to give a thought to that little old man in the antiquated red suit. The one with the white beard, ya know.

Jack Walker, 105 Paseo de Granada, is packing his bags. He'll leave Riviera on Nov. 20 to take up his new job as field research representative for the AirResearch Co. at Fort Worth, way down deep in the heart of his wife Marge and their three children, Phil, Robby, and Steven, will follow him as soon as nature permits. That is to say, they're expecting another little one around Feb. 1, and as soon as number four child makes itself comfortable in this world, the family will join him in Texas. The Walkers say they expect to return to Riviera and so are planning on renting their home until the Fort Worth job is through.

Now's as good a time as any to remark that the Sportsmen's Club's bowling team has won four games. Jim Hennings, one of team's regulars, says the Sportsmen are tied with the Moose for second slot in league play and are just two out of first place.

A story of near-tragedy, one of those things that haunt all mothers, unfolded in Riviera last week. The story starts as John L. Ryan bade his family temporary farewell and left Friday, Oct. 31, for Alabama and his new position as chief chemist of the Good Year plant in that state. Time passed and the following Tuesday evening found Mrs. Ryan in their home at 232 Paseo de Granada, tending to the needs of their four children, Irene 6, Mary 5, Teresa 4, and Monica 2. While the other three children played around the house, little Teresa napped on the davenport. Mrs. Ryan, glancing at Teresa from time to time, suddenly noticed that the child was not breathing. Grabbing her up in her arms, Mrs. Ryan ran across the street to the home of Mr. and Mrs.

T. J. Friary, 227 Paseo de Granada, where Mr. Friary immediately began artificial respiration. Mrs. Friary, a nurse, called the fire department for a pulmonator squad, which arrived together with the police in a short while. Thanks to Mr. Friary's good work, the little girl had begun breathing by that time, and the fire department took over the job of applying respiration while the mother called in a doctor. After consultation, they decided that with the cause unknown, the child should undergo a series of tests and checks to see if such a condition could recur. In the meantime, little Teresa is back playing her favorite games and apparently none the worse for wear. The husband, summoned by wire from his new job, is now back in Alabama. The Ryans reported they plan to sell their home here at the end of February and move in body to Alabama to be with father Ryan.

The Riviera Explorers of Troop 718-X have returned from a week-end cruise and camp at Catalina, Stan Southern, 107 Calle de Andaluca, advisor to the Explorers, reported this week. Eight boys made the trip, together with Mr. Southern, Mr. Strumbo and M. H. Traff, owner of the 42-foot-yacht Tornado, in which the group made the trip.

The Explorers left Saturday at 9 a.m., destination the Emerald Bay, Catalina Island, Scout camp. The Rivieraers slept in barracks while there, enjoyed open air cooking. They fished for sea bass, caught 10 Sunday morning. Biggest thrill, says advisor Southern, was their opportunity to talk to their homes on the radio-telephone.

Boys making the trip included Phil Southern, Jim Mullens, Jim Sanok, Mike Kendall, Monty McLeod, Reggie Ferruci, Butch Strumbo and Roger McCall.

An organizational meeting for those interested in building our own church in Hollywood Riviera will be held at the Satterlees, 255 Calle de Andaluca, at 7:30 p.m. next Monday, Nov. 17.

Five young Rivieraers journeyed over to Palos Verdes last Saturday to attend the birthday party of a fellow Marymount School of Palos Verdes student, Miss Susie Coleman of 8948 Palos Verdes Drive North. A huge one with strawberry icing held the center of attention. The dining room, scene of the festivities, was decorated in a Bozo the Clown theme. The children, together with nine other Marymount students and friends, played various party games. Riviera children attending included Bonnie Baldwin, Mary Margaret and Terry Wermuth, and Jack and Jill Webb. Other Marymount students and other guests were Bobby Pearce, Douglas Hege, Susie Nauer, Susan Weaver, Ann Hagenmaier, Malchele Gosse, Vickie and Cheryl Irwin and Susie's brother, Tom.
