Homecoming Activities Set For Tartar-Inglewood Game

Alumni of Torrance High School will be honored guests at homecoming tomorrow night with activities planned before, during and after the Tartar-Inglewood football game.

Sponsored by the Associated Students, a get-together will be held in the school library immediately after the game. Refreshments will be served and music provided for dancing, it was stated.

The homecoming queen, Miss Ellen Koehn, and her court will preside at the after-game activities as well as game celebrations. Miss Koehn was elected queen last week.

Crowning ceremonies will take place on the football field at 7:45, just prior to kick-off. Shirley York, 1951 queen, will present this year's campus winner.

Attendants are Norma Quine, Betty Peterson, Sally Codes and Nancy Baird.

Last year more than 300 alumni attended homecoming activities.

Low Clouds, Er Fog, Blankets Area; Rain Next

Smog took a back seat to plain old fog the last couple of nights as wet dew blanketed the entire Torrance area. But, the weatherman says, light drizzles expected in most parts this morning might chase the fog away.

The official U. S. Weather Bureau guess reads: Low clouds this morning, local drizzles at times, partially clearing this afternoon. Little change in temperature. High today near 68.

DAV Commander Grateful

"Thanks to everybody for a gratifying response," said Commander R. R. Carrier Monday at the conclusion of a fund drive to aid disabled veterans or their dependents in this area which began Nov. 6.

Even youngsters contributed to the cause, said Carrier, leader of South Bay Chapter No. 92, Disabled American Veterans.

"One little boy gave some change from his grocery money. Asked if he should ask mama first, he cried, 'I ain't got no mama,' and ran from the store, the commander reported.

Open house was held at the McBee home and workers dropped in from time to time. A sincere vote of thanks is sent to those who volunteered their time and energy to this worthwhile project by Mrs. McBee and Mrs. Dorsey.
