Knolls Knee Deep In Birthday Fetes

By TEO CUNNINGHAM
Lomita 232 J
If the pace set last month continues, 1953 will be a busy year indeed for everyone...
Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jelsma, of 234th St., have had as their houseguests, Mrs. Jelsma's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Brinton, their daughter-in-law and grandchild, Mrs. Warren Brinton and Landra Jo until last week. The Brintons make their home in Flagstaff, Ariz., but were here so little Landra Jo could take the tests necessary prior to her scheduled "blue baby" operation at the Children's Hospital in the near future. It was quite an ordeal for the five-year-old, but being a child and having the snap of childhood, she came through them with flying colors. Her's our hopes for a successful operation.
Mrs. Dora Heinlein, of 234th St., is doing so well after her surgery last week at Torrance Memorial Hospital, that she was able to come home last Monday.
Torrance Elementary School has a paper drive coming up the last of this month, so don't throw those old papers out... just give them to one of the kids... they'll be more than glad to have them, for there is usually a contest to see whose room can collect the most...
There has been a change made for this month's regular meeting of Circle No. 7... instead of meeting next Tuesday, it will be held on Monday at the home of Mrs. Bertha McKinley, at 22945 Walnut Ave. Co-hostess with Bertha will be Thelma Setzer, who tells me that that it's the circle's birthday meeting and something different has been planned for the evening. The meeting will start at 8 p.m. with Camilla Helphand presiding.
Last Friday evening, the home of Gordon and Ginny Jones, 2054 Reynosa Dr., was the scene of a birthday get together for the Jones family. Honoring Mrs. Richard Jones, and Miss Mary Jones, who were the birthday girls, were Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Jones, and son Evan; Mr. Richard Jones, and children Bryar and Lorna; and Mr. and Mrs. Chris Jones. Each honoree was presented with a gift from the group and after an evening of chatting and singing the honorees were presented with their birthday cakes which were decorated with their names and wishes for a happy birthday. Ice cream and coffee were also served to go along with the cakes.
Little Delpha Elliott, daughter of Mildred and Joe Elliott of Santa Fe St., celebrated her eighth birthday last Sunday with a decorated birthday cake and ice cream being shared by the members of her family and two little girl friends, Holly Locke, and Holly's cousin, Joella. Delpha has something that Ripley would be interested in, at least it's different than others her age, she has a third set of teeth in the front.

Birthdays always mean so much to children... and what fun those parties are to look back on when we grow up...
Kenny Clever, 1760 Calamar St., who is all of five years old now, since last Monday, is no exception, and that evening he was all out of breath telling daddy about his party at which Scotty Triplett, Carol Ann Winkbauer, Teresa Hopper, Nancy Bowen, Billy Sullivan, Ronny Stewart, and Terry Sandell were guests... "They brought lots of nice presents too, daddy." Each little playmate had a cupcake with a candle, accompanied by an ice cream cone, and pop, and was given to take home those poppers with cowboy pictures on them, and baskets of candy.
