SUN-TAN SENSE

Time, Lotion Helpful Hints For Happy 'Season in Sun'

For the winter-weary millions who welcome the return of summer with long days of sun-bathing and sun-lit sports, there threatens a new crop of the skin discomforts that year after year plague the sun worshippers . . . neon-bright noses, freckling, drying, peeling, and lined, prematurely-aged skins. Yet, despite the annual warnings of doctors, skin specialists, and health and beauty experts, these same millions will rush blindly onto beaches and lawns, exposing themselves to the ravages of a merciless sun. And the by-products of this seasonal dash to "get a good tan" result in the ruined vacation, the costly doctor bills, and for industry, the many millions of man-hours that annually are lost. Yet, it's easy to avoid all of this. For along with common-sense timing of tanning, the consistent use of one of the thoroughly dependable sun lotions now available offers complete protection and creates all the conditions necessary to the acquisition of a glowing tan. These lotions cut out most of the harmful, burning rays while allowing those that contribute to a good tan to come through. Keeping in mind that there is no fast way to a beautiful tan, and remembering to check your sun lotion label to see that protection is promised, are two general rules for assuring good results from time invested in the sun. Remember also that a light hazy day can be most deceptive; even though you can't see it that sun is still there, burning away on your tender skin. For a happy "season in sun," here are a few simple suggestions that will make your tan a work of art and save all the beautiful out-of-door fun you need:

- 1. Apply suntan lotion evenly and all over before exposure. Make sure there is a protective film over the entire area of your skin.
2. Take special care of the most exposed parts of your body . . . forehead, cheekbones, nose, chin, shoulders, and backs of knees.
3. Reapply suntan lotion after each swim. And apply it periodically if you perspire heavily.
4. Watch your timing. Take it easy. Watch out for overlong exposure, especially the first few times. No one can tan in one day.
5. Use a lip pomade. This will help relieve your lips of fever sores, chapping, and cracking resulting from exposure to the sun.
6. Use sun glasses. The sun can seriously damage delicate eye tissue, can make eyes red and unattractive. Minimize these dangers with sun glasses.

Local Gal Takes Spotlight In Week-end Ballet Festival

Nancy Viehhaus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Viehhaus, 1905 Acacia Ave., will be featured in Marymount of Palos Verdes Mid-May Festival to be held Saturday and Sunday, May 16 and 17, at the school. Marymount officials announced this week. Miss Viehhaus will represent the spirit of Autumn in that section of the "Ballet of the Seasons," title of the Festival. Marymount officials added that this Mid-May Festival is the first to be staged and the spirit of a regular May festival tradition with the school. All 115 students of the school will be represented in some way or other in the giant festival, with four girls, including Miss Viehhaus, leading up the four seasons. The other three girls scheduled to take principal parts of the other seasons include Miss Nancy Gogins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Gogins, 343 Calle de Andalucia, Hollywood Riviera, who will represent the spirit of Summer in red rose costume; Miss Susan Coleman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Coleman, 3945 Palos Verdes Drive East, Palos Verdes Estates; and Miss Michelle Grosse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Grosse, of San Pedro. In the giant ballet festival, each season is broken into three sections each, covering the months of the particular season. The spring season ballets, titled "March Merriment," center on St. Patrick's Day in traditional colors and dances, April Showers ballet and "May Rainbow" numbers will follow. Summer season includes "June Elfin Frolics," "July 4th on Parade," and "August By the Sea, 1907." "September World Series" ballet introduces the Autumn section followed by "October Antics," in a Halloween theme, "November Harvest Holidays" ballet featuring a square dance and the Autumn presentation. Marymount first graders will usher in the Winter Ballet series with their production of "December Frosties" featuring six-year old snowballs, snowflakes, peisider, and Mrs. Santa Claus. "January Gayeties" with a skaters' dance ballet and "February Memories Minuet" conclude the winter section. Dancing is under the direction of Elissa Ryan of the Elissa Ryan Studio of Dancing, with Tom Sheehy assisting on numbers. Because of the anticipated large numbers of relatives and friends, two performances have been scheduled, one Saturday afternoon and one Sunday afternoon, school officials concluded.

Seaside Gals To Present Style Show

Girls in the seventh and eighth grade homemaking classes will model clothes they have made this evening when Seaside PTA holds an 8 o'clock meeting at the school auditorium. Installation of officers, a convention report by the president-elect, Mrs. Earl Hudson, and songs by the school chorus also will highlight the session. Program plans were made Wednesday last week when the executive board met at the home of Mrs. Harold Muldoon. Also charted for the May calendar was a paper, magazine, and rag drive to be held May 21 from 2 to 9 p.m. Magazines and papers are to be tied before being brought to the school auditorium, it was announced. Points will be given for all material, and the rooms collecting the largest number of points will receive first and second prizes for their achievements.

JANET GRAY—NEW "VOICE WITH A SMILE"

Like many other young graduates, she'll soon be stepping into her telephone future Janet Gray might be any of hundreds of young women—from high schools, colleges and commercial schools—who will start telephone careers in the coming weeks. For Janet and her new colleagues, it's a big event. They'll have many interesting types of jobs to choose from, they'll be paid full salaries while they learn their jobs. And they can count on frequent raises. For Janet, the opportunities to advance are excellent. Because women are important in our business . . . many hold management jobs. Many young men, too, will be starting telephone careers in the next few months. Their skill and experience will grow through training and actual work on different telephone jobs. And, when qualified, they'll be eligible for promotion to more responsible positions. For it's tradition in our business to choose tomorrow's telephone executives from among the young men starting their telephone careers now.
