Kettler Kapers Youth Trio Net $26 For Palsy Fund

By TEO CUNNINGHAM Davenport 6-4078
Sometimes we just take things for granted, and when they are brought to our attention we are thankful and proud that we are a part of the "American Way". For example last Saturday evening Steven and Stuart Buckalew, sons of Dorothy and Rupert Buckalew of 1711 W. 238th St., were watching the Central Palsy telethon, they announced that they would be happy to come pick up any donations of $25 or more. The boys did not have that much to give themselves, so decided to do something about it. In a little more than an hour the boys had collected $26.50 from the third and fifth tracts, so were able to phone in for a pickup. Going along with them was W. "Jimmy" Fenger, a German boy from Berlin who has now made America his adopted home. He, along with his mother and older brother have made their home for the past 15 months with his sister Inge Clark, a German war bride of 1818 Schilling Dr. Jimmy is a student at Torrance High School and very proud of being a corporal in the California Cadet Corps there. To him it was quite amazing and wonderful that Americans should go all-out to help the less fortunate. . . . and I'm sure that his mother, as well as Dorothy Buckalew are proud that the boys should want to help enough to get out, and call on their neighbors that each little bit might be added together to make a collection possible. The Buckalew boys are members of Boy Scout Troop 219. Steven received his second class and music merit badges, while Stuart was awarded his Tenderfoot badge at the troop's recent Court of Honor Awards. It makes us proud too, that they are Kettlerites.

A group of the fellows who work in the office of Occidental Life Insurance with O. A. Shelhart of Falena Ave., get together once a year and go deep sea fishing. . . . That day was last Saturday and from the reports, it was a beautiful day and they had a lovely boat ride. . . . Who said anything about fishing? . . . for it just wasn't a fishing day and the fish were most independent. . . . Just wouldn't take that bait. . . . Nevertheless, the fellows had a grand time and enjoyed every minute of it. Better luck next time.

If you folks would like a really good breakfast for very little, mark June 27 on your calendar and when that day rolls around go to the Jim Dandy market and eat your fill for the huge sum of 25 cents. The breakfast is being sponsored by Boy Scout Troop 219 to raise money for a troop camping trip later in the summer.

It has been a full house at the Keller residence on 298th St. for Sam's mother, Mrs. Elsie Keller, and brother William have been living with Sam and Bea since January. Also visiting were Sam's sister and brother-in-law Mr. and Mrs. David Haney, all of Pittsburgh, Pa. The Haney's have returned to Pittsburgh with the intentions of selling their home and settling their business there, and returning to California to make their home. Mrs. Keller and William have moved into a home in Avalon Villa. Sam and Bea celebrate the tenth wedding anniversary . . . 11.

Along the happy side too is the news that Gordon Jones of Reynosa Dr. is getting along fine in his convalescence since his surgery. . . . The doctor says about three more weeks of taking it easy, so be good Gordie and do just that. Also am glad to report that Dorothy Oliver of Middlebrook Rd. is looking forward to leaving Magnolia Hospital in Long Beach before too long after her bout with the surgeon's knife last week.

Small fry convalescing from tonsillitis are Gayle Hardesty of Huber Ave., and little Kathie Andreoli of Kathy Way. Then too there is Richard Grant, who won't be able to finish school this year because of those speckles known as chicken-pox while Mike Pooler on Huber Ave. is in the same predicament but with the measles. Sorry, kids, but it won't be for long.

Springtime means the start of vacations. . . . So Paul and Mary Clark of Reynosa Dr. have had as their houseguests very old friends, Maxine and Bill Gumm from Rockford, Ill., who
