

Sacramento Report

By CHARLES CHAPEL
Assemblyman, 46th District

I belong to four Assembly Committees: Transportation and Commerce; Revenue and Taxation; Manufacturing, Oil, and Mining; and Public Utilities and Corporations. A bill pertaining to the general management and operation of trucks may be heard by the Transportation and Commerce Committee. A bill regarding the taxation of trucks will be heard by the Revenue and Taxation Committee. If a bill on trucks is especially related to manufacturing, oil business, or mining, it is sometimes brought before the committee on these operations. When the bill is close by tied to the California State Public Utilities Commission and its regulation of public carriers, then it is certainly brought before the Assembly Committee on Public Utilities and Corporations.

Unavoidable Overlapping of Committees

In general, the Speaker of the Assembly, James Silliman, can glance at a bill and tell which committee should hear it, but sometimes the bill can be heard by any one of several committees, in which case he may ask the author of the bill which committee he prefers. Obviously, the author designates the committee where he thinks the bill will be passed out favorably with the least argument. However, the chairman of the committee receiving the bill may decide that it does not belong to his committee. He then has the committee vote to re-refer the bill. If the committee votes with him, the bill goes to the Assembly Rules Committee, or sometimes to the Speaker, for transmission to another committee, or they can send it back to the committee that had it originally.

Education Committee Not Confined to School Bills

Many people believe that the Assembly Education Committee hears only bills directly connected with classroom work, but this is not true. For example, in 1951, the Assembly Education Committee, to which I belonged, heard bills on buses used to haul handicapped children to school. These bills could have been heard by the Committee on Transportation and Commerce, but the school people wanted them voted on by the Education Committee, hence that is where they went.

State Senate Has System Similar to Assembly

In general, the State Senate has committees corresponding to those of the Assembly, although they may have different names. For example, the Assembly Committee on Ways and Means corresponds to the Senate Finance Committee.

Interim Committees

Interim Committees function when the Legislature is not in session. There are three kinds of interim committees: (1) All-regular committees, that is, the regular committees that work while the Legislature is in session, also serve as interim committees. For example, the Assembly Education Committee, which is the regular, standing committee, becomes the Assembly Interim Committee on Education when we are not in session. (2) Sub-committees, consisting of a few members of a main committee, can function as Interim Sub-Committees. For example, there can be an Assembly Interim Sub-Committee of the Education Committee which examines only bills on handicapped school children. (3) Joint Committees of both the Assembly and the Senate can be either Standing Committees or Interim Committees, or they can be both. For example, I am a member of the Joint Maritime Committee, which hears bills on beaches, piers, seawalls, harbors, navigation or inland waters (rivers and lakes), water pollution, and similar matters. This committee consists of five Members of the Assembly and five Senators. It functions all the time, whether we are in session or not, hence it is both a Standing Committee and an Interim Committee.

The Passage of an Appropriation Bill

A bill to appropriate money to rebuild the sea wall at Redondo Beach is first heard on its merits by the Assembly Committee on Conservation, Planning and Public Works. If that committee decides that the bill is for a good purpose, it passes it out and sends it to the Assembly Committee on Ways and Means which votes whether or not the money will be spent, how much, and what fund the money will come from. The bill then goes on the floor of the Assembly, if it passes there, it goes to the Senate where it is heard on its merits by one committee, and in regard to the expenditure of the money by the Senate Finance Committee. Thereafter, if it passes on the floor of the Senate, and is signed by the Governor, it is no longer a bill but now becomes a law.

Next Session in March

The California Legislature meets again during March, 1954 as a budget session. Very few bills will be heard on anything except the budget until the next regular, long session in 1955. Meanwhile, I am always glad to receive letters sent to me at P. O. Box 777, Inglewood 1, Calif.

Sailor Serves on Sub

Serving aboard the submarine USS Sterlet based in San Diego is Theodore Andone, Jr., electrician's mate first class, USN, son of Mrs. Dorothy Moore of 1270 Pacific Coast Hwy., Harbor City.

Before entering the Navy in May, 1949, he attended North Phoenix High School.

The Sterlet returned from the Far East where she participated in anti-submarine training.

IN SCHOOL . . . Roland A. Homolka, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Homolka of 710 Border Ave., has entered the Aircraft Mechanics School at Sheppard Air Force Base in Texas. A graduate of Torrance High School, Homolka entered the Air Force in January.

Kettler Kapers Navyman Enjoys 27-Month Tour In Philippines

Had a chance to talk to Navyman FM Bob Mattern last week, who returned home on Aug. 2 from the Philippine Islands. He spent 27 months over there and seems to have enjoyed it, and hopes that when he checks in at San Diego on Sept. 3, they'll place him at a good location again. We hope so, too, Bob and wish you lots of luck! Bob's parents live at 1726 W. 234th St. Another Bob, Bob Schmidt, a close friend of Mattern's entered the Navy with him and is now at Moffitt Field. His parents also reside in the Knolls.

Another vacationlet "at home" is Mrs. Edith Dickson, mother of Bill Dickson of 1849 Middlebrook Rd. She returned home last Sunday from a four-week trip to Pittsburgh, Penn., and is happy to be home once again.

Seen visiting old neighbors and friends last week was Mrs. Willie Archbold and children, who made a surprise visit from San Diego. The Archbolds formerly resided at 1804 Reynosa Dr.

Mrs. Howard Kell of 28101 Falena Ave. last week was hostess to a "family gathering" honoring the dual birthdays of son Kenny, who was nine years old and her mother, Mrs. Eugenia Newman. A delightful luncheon was served to the guests of honor and to her father, Mr. Earl Newman and children Jimmy and Richard.

"The" and Sally Eckersley and daughters Jan and Jill are home again following a five-day stay at Blue Jay, camping out, fishing and swimming were fun spots at the summer resort. The Eckersleys live at 2022 Reynosa Dr.

Second Star Given 40th's Gen. Eaton

The second star of a major general was pinned on the collar of Homer O. Eaton Jr., commander of Southern California's famed 40th Infantry Division at a colorful—and, to him, surprise—ceremony at the Hunter Liggett Military Reservation Aug. 22 by Maj. Gen. David P. Barrows.

To Barrows, former president of the University of California, a veteran of the United States expedition to Siberia during World War I, the first National Guard commander of the 40th, and a noted military analyst, fell the task of informing Eaton, a brigadier general of the line, that Gov. Earl Warren had ordered his promotion.

City Planners Nix Multiple Home Zoning

The controversial multiple residence zoning proposal for homes along Yukon Ave. north of 174th St. has been recommended for disapproval by the City Planning Commission, after two public hearings at which residents of single family homes in the area expressed strong opposition to the plan.

A third public hearing will be conducted by the City Council at which the final decision will be made.
