Vermont Knolls Homes Open for Inspection Now

Open for inspection today will be a model of one of the attractive three-bedroom homes in Vermont Knolls, a new development located three miles east of Torrance on East Rd., bounded by Normandie and Vermont Aves.

Built by C. D. Pruitt, experienced Southern California contractor and builder, the homes in Vermont Knolls are being offered at a price of $7650, with small down payments to veterans or non-veterans and easy monthly payments.

The development is within easy reach of many large industries including Douglas Aircraft, Harvey Machine, and Columbia Steel, and an elementary school is within walking distance.

Among the distinctive features of the homes in Vermont Knolls are 156 large high lots to choose from, wide paved streets, concrete curbs and gutters, sanitary sewers in and paid for, showers, all utilities in, telephones available, dual furnace heating, asphalt tile throughout, kitchen and bathroom enameled, and six convenient floor plans and 28 exterior designs to choose from.

Four Residents Lose Licenses

More than a few and less than several Torrance residents had their drivers' licenses taken away by the Department of Motor Vehicles during the period Sept. 7-11.

Those who had licenses revoked or suspended were Harold Berry, 1024 Cerrito Ave., revoked on a reckless driving charge; and Harden Allen, 21207 S. Avalon; Joseph Lewis, 18421 Regina Ave., and Camille Roy, 21130 Brighton Ave., all suspended following an accident for failure to meet the requirements of the financial responsibility law.

Convicted of a violation but with no suspension recommended by the court was Edward Ratliff, 1104 Arlington Ave.

Licenses have been reinstated to Garry Miller, 1644 W. 208rd St.; Floyd Polston, 23851 Park St.; Robert Turgelon, 21216 S. Main St., and Consuelo Velasquez, 2865 W. 286th St.

Non-Profit Orgs In Fair
Thirty-four non-profit organizations will enter exhibits at the California State Fair, September 3 through 13 in Sacramento.
