By ADALINE CORTEZ

After only one month in his new home, 2714 W. 178th St., Bill Clark, recently of Barstow, has been stricken with polio. He is at General Hospital and his condition is improving, but wife Angie and children Stevie and Donna can hardly wait until his release.

A popular little girl at 17504 Cerise Ave., Kathy Spence, celebrated her third birthday and little guys and dolls for blocks around came to see the birth-day cake, which was made in the form of a nursery rhyme book, open to the story of Humpty Dumpty with a picture of the egg man on the wall done in bright-colored icing.

Every time we see Kathy we think of Tinker Bell!

Just back from two weeks of Indian summer in New York and a week-long motor tour of Niagara Falls, Canada, Chicago and Grand Canyon are the Ed Collins and their daughter Sally, while in New York they visited with Mrs. Collins' mother.

Sally saw her first snowfall at Grand Canyon.
The passing of October will find five persons on Atkinson Ave. a year older!
In celebration of this, Marge and Biz Bertrand invited four couples to a steak barbecue at their home, 17314 Atkinson Ave. They danced, ate birthday cake, and sang "Happy Birthday to US." Those present were: the Delbert Alfords, the Hamiltons, the Ed Bronsons, and the Bert Johnsons.

Mrs. Nathan Geodus, 16680

Fay Smith Ave. and Mrs. Weyland attended the Roller Derby Friday night.
Messdames Walter Smith, Harold Wright, Eddie Vaughan and Albert Pesola, Fay Smith Ave. all attended a luncheon and fashion show at the Lakewood Country Club recently. These ladies did not mention the controversial hemline, but they report that the fashion previews were exciting.

It seems to me that one of the sad things of modern living is that those who were so important and so dear to us once are the very one we seldom see.
Such a rare occasion was shared last week by Alex Bates, 17039 Glenburn Ave., and Lt. Col. Leon Clark, who grew up together in Hattiesburg, Miss.

It was only a stopover between trains for the chaplain who is enroute to Japan for three years of service.
Mrs. Ira Dean Jones, sister-in-law of Mrs. Duane Sherwood, 17304 Ardath Ave., was feted by friends with a housewarming and welcome party at the home of Mrs. Sherwood.
A kitchen gadget tree made of coat hangers centered a table set for a late buffet supper.
Mrs. J. R. Allison decorated the cake with a spray of Cecil Brunner roses and a "Hi Nancy" surrounded by an intricate lace design.
Games were played and winners were: Mrs. Ruth Snell and Mrs. Grace Quirk.

Senora Salvador Monsalvo arrived in Los Angeles with very little luggage, as she intends to go on a shopping spree. While the houseguest of Mrs. Gastelum—she visited the Farmers Market, the Queen for a Day television show, the beach, and many, many of the city's shops.
Mrs. Bill Eagle, 17515 Ernania Ave., and her mother, Mrs. Elsa Koski here on a visit from Finland, attended the Queen for a Day show with the Gastelum party.

We hear via the grapevine that Miriam and Bill Eagle and the three little Eagles have bought a new roost in the valley and will be migrating there in one month. What is more, we hear that it is some roost!
Betty and Burt Johnson drove to you . . .
To press my point about not seeing people who really matter it had been 12 years since Connie Gastelum (Mrs. Ralph) 17507 Ermanita Ave., had seen her sister, Carmen, the petite and pretty wife of a colonel in the Mexican Army.

club-coupe on Glenburn Ave. belongs to Mr. and Mrs. Russell Holechek, 17033 Glenburn Ave.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack White dressed as Mary Todd Lincoln and a river boat gambler attended the Pacific Hills Homeowners Masquerade dance held at the VFW Hall in Lomita.
Jack was a judge in the costume contest. Both Mr. and Mrs. thought the outstanding costume was one depicting "Dragnet"!

welcome her parents who were enroute to North Torrance from Minnesota where her father has been connected with the University of Minnesota for 20 years. They visited here this summer and so loved California that they purchased a home at 176th St. and Prairie Ave.
