Funds Provided By Supervisors For Barrier Test

Funds to continue the West Basin water barrier test were appropriated by the Board of Supervisors Tuesday, it was announced this week by Supervisor Burton W. Chace.

The tests have been carried on in the West Basin to halt the intrusion of sea water into wells in the area, Chace said.

According to Chace, the Los Angeles County Flood Control District has reported that the fresh water barrier tests to repel sea water intrusion have had encouraging results.

"I believe that great progress has been made on this project," Chace said, "and it is essential that the work be continued until such time as definite methods can be determined which will protect the water supply of these important communities.

"In addition, these tests will furnish us with valuable information should the same intrusion start in various other coastal communities of the county, and therefore we are glad to sponsor the action of the Board of Supervisors which will continue this important experimental program which our engineers estimated should be completed by June, 1954. The cost will be relatively small in comparison to results to be attained."

Chace said that cost to the Flood Control District will be approximately $7000 a month until June, 1954.
