

CHECK OFF . . . Checking off during rehearsals for the parade next week-end in Huntington Beach are members of the Torrance Mounted Police, left to right, Art Moore, Hugh Sherfey, Virgel Bolles, Les Schmock, Lloyd Woolver. Standing in front are Charley Gottle, George Berry, Bill Bickar, C. Wright, S. Stevens, A. French, E. Alken, J. Phillips, and Capt. Andy Alexander.

. . . Budget

(Continued from Page 1)

vicinity," the city manager said. As approved by the Council this week, the new city tax rate will look like this:

General Fund	1.00
Employee Retirement	0.105
Library	0.05
Bonds	0.04*

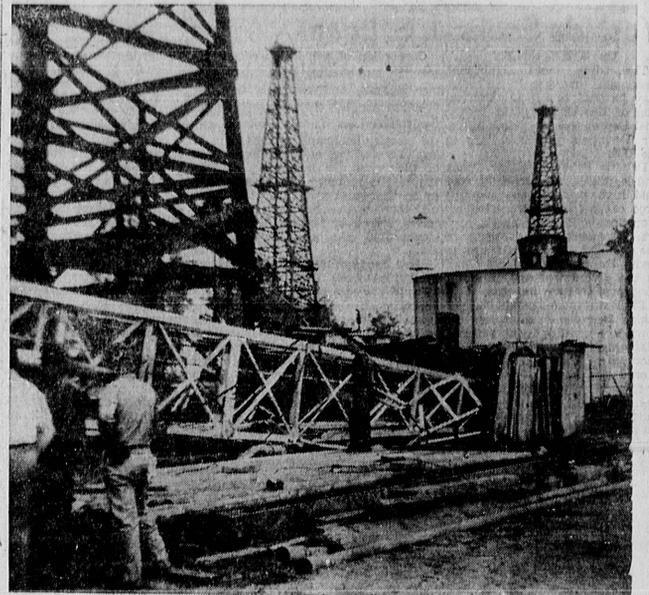

Total 1.165
*The 4-cent tax for bond interest and redemption is the tax required to repay bonds for fire station and parks voted last April by Torrance voters.

General Petroleum Appoints Smog Chief

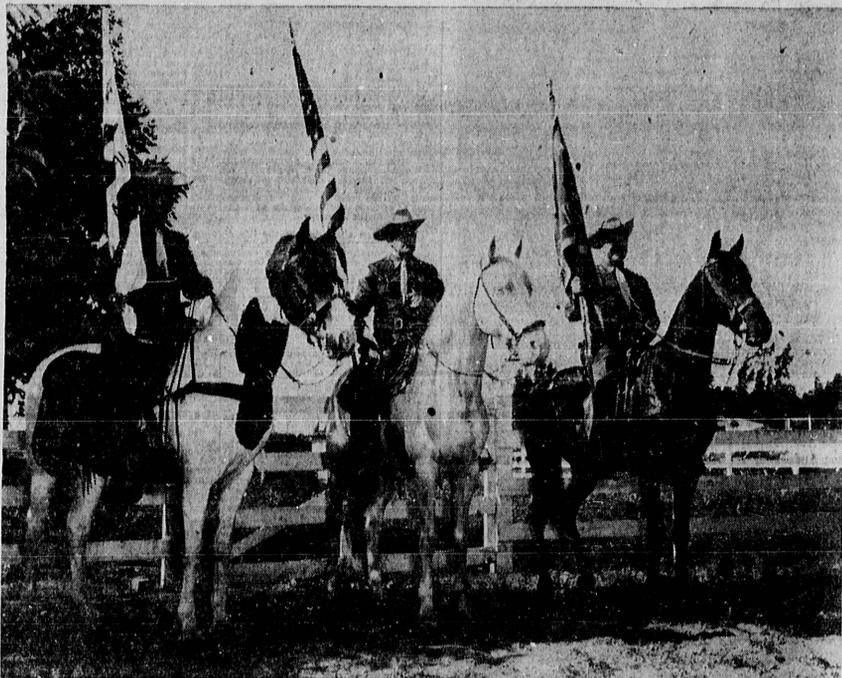

Gerald Fisher has been appointed to the position of Pollution Control Coordinator for the General Petroleum Corp., according to an announcement by Gale L. Adams, director of manufacturing. A veteran of over 30 years with General Petroleum, Fisher has been manager of the lubricants and process products department since 1944.

Didn't Suit 'Em

Richmond, Va.—After elaborate ceremonies, the cornerstone of Henrico county's new office building was laid. However, when the crowd departed, construction workers cast a critical eye, calmly lifted the 100-pound stone and relaid it to suit their ideas.

DERRICK TUMBLES . . . Crews of the Perry Drilling Co. were clear of the path of a falling derrick last week-end when the portable rig toppled while workmen were trying to break loose a stuck pipe in the wall near 236th St. and Walnut Ave. Top of the derrick struck a pump house, damaging an engine. (Photo by Wolfgang Fengler)

FORWARD HO . . . Lloyd Woolver, Hugh Sherfey and Les Schmock are preparing to lead the members of Torrance's voluntary mounted police troupe through the streets of Huntington Beach on the Fourth of July.

PUT YOUR LITTLE FOOT . . . Arden French goes about the business of giving his horse a new set of booties—iron.

BACK IN THE SADDLE . . . It's hupsle daisy and away we go as Art Moore mounts his horse for a little ride.

here's why folks prefer the

TORRANCE HERALD

The Torrance Herald has an editorial staff capable of covering all the important news that happens in the fast growing area served by this 40-year old newspaper . . . no newspaper in the Los Angeles area — published twice-a-week — carries as much local and social news — no paper in the area carries more comprehensive editorial page — and few newspapers anywhere give as much general overall coverage of local news events as does THE TORRANCE HERALD.

PHONE NOW FOR IMMEDIATE DELIVERY . . .

FAirfax 8-4004