

Famed Fantasy Writer to Address Manuscripters Tomorrow Evening

South Bay area writers and fans will have a special treat Friday with the return of Ray Bradbury, famed fantasy writer, as speaker at Southwest Manuscripters, 8 p.m. at Clark Stadium, Hermosa Beach.

Bradbury's superlative style has brought him first leadership in the science fiction field, then top rank among popular "slick" authors, and most recently enormous prestige in the remunerative screen writing field, according to Joan Coverdale, program chairman of Manuscripters.

Friday's meeting marks the third visit of the gifted young author to the club and is of special note as his initial public appearance following his recent extended stay in Great Britain where he was assigned the job of scripting the immortal Moby Dick for motion pictures. "Ray Bradbury's rags to riches" struggle to perfect his literary skills demonstrates graphically how persistence pays the writer; and all persons interested in writing to sell are urged to attend this open meeting," states Mrs. Coverdale.

Telephone Company in Safety Drive

In conjunction with the California Safety Council and President Dwight D. Eisenhower's request for a campaign "to reduce the terrible toll on our highways," General Telephone Company is devoting its July safety training program to traffic safety, according to H. C. Vaupel, local exchange manager.

The company will present a program July 26th to its employees by showing a Walt Disney film entitled "Motor Mania." A safety discussion will be held and copies of the summary of the California Vehicle Code distributed.

"The terrific toll in life, limb and property caused by highway accidents can be stopped only when all drivers become good defensive drivers," Vaupel said.

"The company considers this matter serious enough to devote its entire safety efforts to special programming during July.

Voter Group Has Meeting

A regular meeting of the North Torrance Voters, Inc., was held recently with the main topic of discussion being the problems created by the growth of Torrance.

Councilman Victor Benstead, honored guest at the meeting, gave an informal talk on the city's growth and commended the NTV for the work they are doing. He also offered suggestions for future activities of the group.

Charter member Nick Drule, Torrance Mayor, was present at the meeting during which committees were formed to work on North Torrance problems.

Girl Meets Idol, Prima Ballerina

By ADALINE COBTEZ
MEALO 4-876

The thrill of Gail Case's young life came on her eighth birthday!

Gail and her sisters Diane, aged six, and Carol, aged 4, attended the ballet at the Greek Theater with their mother Mrs. Richard L. Case, 3779 W. 178th St. and were asked backstage to meet the prima ballerina, Diane Adams, and have their pictures taken with her.

By this time, Diane, an aspiring ballerina herself, was floating on air.

Sandra Constance made a lovely lady in waiting when she appeared on TV with George Sanders for the premiere of a movie in which Mr. Sanders stars, last week.

Richard and Genevieve McDonald, 17419 Falda Ave., are back from all sorts of camping trips. They spent a recent week-end camping at Camp Wishon in the mountains, and two weeks on the beach at Carpinteria. This is all a preview of the big event—a camping trip to the High Sierra! (Sorry, Butch, no date). Marge and Owen Bertrand, 17316 Atkinson Ave., with daughter Donna and friend, Luana Alford, motored to Yosemite where they spent a week camping just across from the Fire Falls.

They spent their days floating down the river on air mattresses, hiking, and bicycling to Mirror Lake.

The Weldon Larsen family, 1750 Falda Ave., have returned from a week at her parents' ranch near Fontana.

Things were really popping at the Roland Stamm residence, 17410 Glenburn Ave., on the Fourth of July. For the first time in weeks Mr. Stamm ventured from the house in order to take the children to the Coliseum for the fireworks. On his return he found wife, Pat, gone! She was at Centinela Hospital and to his further surprise, he was already the father of another girl, Robin Gail, weighing 7 lbs., 3 ounces.

The Rudy Bunles, 4119 W. 173rd Pl., also welcomed another girl, Barbara Jean, 7 lbs., 6 ounces, at Torrance Memorial Hospital.

Myrtle and Dave Dyer, 17030 Crenshaw Blvd., are busy with their plans for moving to their new home in Lancaster. Dave has been transferred near there.

Sixteen Glenburn Ave. neighbors of the Truman Pashes who recently moved to Fullerton, gathered for a steak barbecue, and to bid the Pashes goodbye and present them with a lovely lamp of modern design.

The Walt Bronsons, 17229 Atkinson Ave., were also hosts at a steak barbecue.

Guests were the Hamilton Blacks, Owen Bertrands, and Clyde Bronsons with their respective children.

Peter Bruce, 2728 W. 174th St., is home following a week's sojourn at Crenshaw Hospital where he underwent major surgery.

Alma and Orval Farris, with son Wayne and daughter Rosemary, 3329 W. 175th St., spent their vacation at Sacramento, two days of camping at Yosemite, two days in Reno where Alma hit eight jackpots, then to Lake Tahoe and Lake Elsinore.

The North Torrance Fuchsia Society and Lomita branch were hosts at the State meeting held at Hollywood School Sunday.

North Torrance hostesses were Peggy Ball, Irene Allison, Barbara DeCamp, and Velma Eaton.

Plans are under way for the Hollywood Park Show to be held July 31-Aug. 1.

Young Jim Snell, 17511 Cerise Ave., has been burning midnight oil for three months (Wonder what kind of oil he burns—that's a mighty bright light that shines right on my face every night) working on his bullet-shaped racer for the Soap Box Derby. This year should be the charm, as Jim is a veteran of two races.

Sheldon Black, 17224 Atkinson Ave., left Tuesday for his first year away at summer camp.

He will be at Round Meadow for one week.

The Richard Ruoffs, with Nancy and Johnny, 17519 Cerise Ave., spent the week-end at Camp Wishon.

A playpen filled with gifts for baby, was presented to Helen French at a stork shower given her by Barbara Simmons, Janet Larson, and Genevieve McDonald at the latter's home.

Green and yellow daisies and a green and yellow parasol carried out decorations. A buffet supper was served. A clever note—salad was served from a watermelon bowl and a lime punch carried out the color scheme. Guests honoring Mrs. French were Helen Dorsey, Caroline Schrader, Lois Kennedy, Ruth McCauley, Cathy Helvy, Pat Wilson, Edith Hall, Kathy Arvy, Mary Storach, and Bobbie Hanson.

The Isaac Isaacsons, 17326 Glenburn Ave., were hosts to the Fred Sullivans, Mike Orocos, and Wally Smiths, at the Officers Club, Allen Center, on Terminal Island, Saturday.

The Cubs of Paek 761-C are looking forward to presentation of awards around a campfire at a wiener bake to be held at Playa del Rey, Saturday at 6 p.m.

Driving all the way to Azusa for a party seemed a little out of the question, but after arriving Saturday night at the Rainbow Angling Club, which is nestled among pines, and boasts a second-story lake complete with waterfall, after dancing and din-
