

Short Course in Economics Given at C of C Breakfast

A 30-minute condensation of a six-week university course on the theory of economics was presented by L. E. Green, division manager of the Southern California Gas Co., at the first in a series of Chamber of Commerce breakfasts here Tuesday morning.

The gas company official, who participated in a six-week course at the University of Southern California last summer, told the two score early risers at the

State Takes Many Drivers' Permits Here

California drivers found out that the Department of Motor Vehicles isn't kidding, last week, as they had their permits to drive removed for infractions of the vehicle code.

From this area were: Jack Gene Delaney, 3134 W. 187th Pl., financial responsibility law; Gerald D. Carver, 2858 President Ave., financial responsibility; Jerome F. Kearney, 4126 W. 175th St., financial responsibility; Stella Belle Jones, 808 N. 283rd St., financial responsibility.

Neal Bob Kukucs, 1851 Lomita Blvd., financial responsibility; Proffitt H. Tapia, 648 W. 220th St., failure of ability to respond in damage action; Miguel F. Verdugo, 2186 203rd St., third drunk driving conviction; Jack Charles Walker, 1211 El Prado, drunk driving.

Those recently convicted of drunk driving, but who did not lose their licenses, were: Edizardo G. Flores, 28714 Bella Poite Ave., and Antonio M. Tewalt, 28344 Pennsylvania Ave.

Licenses were reinstated to: Felix Henry Edwards, 21818 S. Harvard; Ernest Henderson, 22203 Ocean Ave.; Roy C. Hicks, 20850 N. New Hampshire Ave.; William G. Ollie, 1006 Sartori Ave.; Everett T. Williams, 24233 Los Odona Ave.

OUR LOCAL STORY GETS A BIG PLAY, TOO!

Not only does Pacific Electric Railway connect Southern California with distant markets and supply sources; it is also the sole carrier of considerable freight which both originates and terminates on its lines - freight moving from one point to another within the counties of Los Angeles, Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino. Shipments in this category last year amounted to more than 42,000 carloads, about one-fourth of our total carload traffic. This amount represents a 350-mile-long train of supplies which moved over PE's private right-of-way.

Couple, Five Children Put Out By Fire

Fire which apparently started when the electrical system was overloaded completely destroyed the furniture and possessions of a Lomita family Monday noon. Losing their possessions were the W. G. Chromister family of 25028 Walnut Ave. Lomita firemen estimated the damage at $1800 to the building and $1000 to furnishings.

A cocker puppy, pet to the couple's five children, was lost in the blaze.

Cement Mixer Taken

A portable concrete mixer was stolen from a construction job at 3124 Pacific Coast Hwy. Mrs. James Thompson, of 24339 Pennsylvania Ave., reported to police.

22 to Attend Youth Meet

Twenty-two representatives of local youth organizations will attend the 23rd annual conference of Federated Coordinating Councils at El Camino College Saturday from 8:30 to 4:30. Local organizations sponsoring the young people are the Rotary Club, Lions Club, Kiwanis Club, Soroptimists, Torrance Coordinating Council and the YWCA.

Man Beaten Up After Debate Over Safety

A man who picked him up in his car later beat him up after an argument over the proper hand turn signals. Jack Newton Hale, of 951 W. 222nd St., told sheriff's deputies Wednesday.

1. When is a youth delinquent?
2. Is the 18-year-old wise enough to vote?
3. Race relations.
