Year's Activities Mark 4th Annual Torrance Y Meet

Highlights of the year's activities, a glimpse of the world-wide aspects of the YWCA, and returns on the election of branch committee members, combined to make the 4th annual meeting of the Torrance YWCA an outstanding occasion.

"The Y and I" was discussed by Margaret Ohn-Bwint, delegate to the International Leadership Training Project of the YWCA from Rangoon Burma. Miss Ohn-Bwint stated that of the 10 million people in Burma 90% are Buddhist. Because of this and because of Burmese customs and tradition the YWCA program must be adapted. The YW in Burma was organized in 1902 as a part of the Indian YW but in 1951 Burma was organized as a separate Association with secretaries from their own country. Y-teens are organized only in Christian schools as the public schools are Buddhist, she concluded.

The results of the election were read by Mrs. Kenneth Clutter, secretary. Those chosen to serve on the Torrance Committee on Administration were: Mmes. Thomas Westfall, Helen Benton, L. A. McCoy, and Miss Pauline Greer. The nominating committee will have as its chairman, Mrs. Warren Hamilton. Others selected to serve are: Mmes. Paul Shinoda, R. D. Evans, Lee Stamps, and Miss Nell Colburn.

The report of the Torrance Branch was given by Mrs. Charlotte Lukes, Branch Director assisted by members of club groups. Y-teens from the Torrettes dramatized a slumber party, the Marquettes a fashion show, the Delias and Coquettes money raising projects. Betas a potato chip sale, while the Debs reported on an orphanage party, and the Mombelesas part in the World Fellowship program was reported. Dee Gibson presided. Members of the Y-Wives and Streamliners demonstrated the dance steps and exercises they are learning in their groups. Mrs. Doris Alles showed charts and explained the program of the Stork Club.

The meeting was presided over by Miss Nell Colburn, chairman of the Torrance YW. Mrs. Rufus Sandstrom served as Annual Meeting chairman. The Brunch was prepared by Mrs. L. A. McCoy, assisted by Mmes. Lee Stamps, J. P. Montague, R. J. Prout, and Tom Watson. Mrs. Joseph Rogan served as dining room hostess assisted in serving by members of Yteen clubs. Mrs. Walter Silence and Mrs. Minnie Solomon were responsible for setting the tables. Members of the membership committee, Mrs. Rufus Sandstrom and Mrs. L. L. Enger served as hostesses along with Gerry Revell, chairman of refreshments, has announced the lunch, as well as the entertainment, will be strictly on the house, with no charge or donation requested.

Sean Meaney, famed Irish humorist and vocalist, will provide entertainment on the lighter side, according to George W. Schneider, chairman of entertainment.

Delphians to Meet Thurs.

Kappa chapter of Delphinian society will meet at the Torrance library Thursday morning at 10. Mrs. J. S. Dresser will lead the discussion on "Adaptation, Adjustment, and Integration." Others who will participate in the discussion are Mmes. Paul Harsted, R. E. Beecher, W. F. Toombs, J. M. Stuart and H. M. Davis.

"Language and learning" was the topic at the last meeting of the Kappa Chapter. Mrs. J. M. Stuart led the study assisted by Mmes. D. J. Quinlivan, Mildred Bauman, Robert MacNicol and L. G. Jones.

In their discussion the speakers pointed out that "because language is closely bound up with the entire cultural life of any nation or race, its importance cannot be over-emphasized."

With the development of spoken language man made his first great cultural advance, for parents could now instruct their children with speech whereas previously the young could learn only through demonstration and imitation. Then, of course, as the learning cycle grew in complexity, it was impossible for the mind to retain more than a reasonable amount, and thus the discovery of writing, another cultural advance.

It is easy to understand the importance of language when we study any particular group and realize that its entire cultural life is bound up with language.
