Ollie May Ridgway

Friday services were held in Stone and Myers Chapel for Ollie May Ridgway, 71, of Long Beach, a former resident of Torrance. The Rev. James L. Shields officiated.

Mrs. Ridgway, who lived in Torrance for six years before moving to Long Beach, was a native of Kansas. Burial was in Pacific Crest Cemetery. She died Tuesday.

She is survived by a son, Oscar, of Redondo Beach; daughter, Hasle M. Reynolds, of Long Beach; and two sisters, Lydia King, of Los Angeles, and Dora Ellison, of Oklahoma.

Stone and Myers Chapel, with the Rev. Nathan Bond officiating. She died Monday.

A native of Denmark, she had lived in Torrance about two and one half years. Burial was in Pacific Crest Cemetery.

She is survived by a son, James T. Kelly, of Torrance, with whom she made her home.

Community Chest Sponsors Family Panel Discussion

Masked parents and their teenage children will air family troubles and will invite a youth panel, previously unrehearsed, to help solve the problems.

The popular study, "Teenage Trials," aimed toward achieving happier family relations, highlights the third open-house Spring Institute at the Ebell Club on Tuesday, April 19.

Many Harbor Area volunteer women to the Community Chest or its 164 agencies are expected to attend.

The luncheon speaker, Dr. Albert Raubenheimer, educational vice president of the University of Southern California will discuss "The Problems of Youth in Our Changing World."

During the dramatic "youth trials," Superior Judge William Noeley will act as consultant with Paul Pierce of KRCA as moderator. Pierce moderates "Teenage Trials" which Stanley Brady produces on Sunday afternoon for Channel 4.

Morning speaker will be Mrs. Jack W. Hardy on "Where Chest Money Goes." Information and tickets at $1.75 per person can be obtained from the Harbor Community Chest Service Center, 1427 South Pacific Ave., Terminal 5-5227.

Dale Wendt Receives Oratorical Prize at Brown Military School

by Sonnie Tomchak
FR 5-6662

Sixteen-year-old Dale Wendt, of 4806 Green Meadows Ave., who is a student at Brown Military Academy, has recently been awarded a loving cup for taking first honors in an oratorical contest.

Dale's prize was awarded for excellence in debate and he is scheduled to debate this week in the regional contest to be held in San Diego. The winners there will enter a state contest. Dale, a junior this year, is in his first year of debating and it is the first time in the history of Brown Military Academy that a first year student has won a debating contest.

He recently returned to the academy after a gala Easter vacation when he entertained several groups of friends at his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Banazynski, of 4632 Green Meadows Ave., are the parents of a baby boy born April 4. The baby was born at Kaiser Hospital and weighed 10 lbs. He was named Paul David and was greeted at home by brothers Lynn, 2 and Paul, 1.

The Bill Bowmans, of 4526 Pacific Coast Hwy., have a little visitor in their home. A parakeet, turquoise in color, was found near their home several weeks ago and they are holding it in hopes that the owner will claim it.

The Bowmans returned Monday from a four day trip into the desert where they enjoyed roughing it at Bill's father's cabin located near Joshua Tree.

Rosalie Davis, of 4726 Green Meadows Ave., held a celebration luncheon on April 5 for Mary Ann Doty who recently retired from her position at Al Research to await the birth of a baby. Guests were Coleen Little, Reba Grossch, and Lois Brubaker. Mrs. Davis served tuna casserole, peas, tomato aspic salad, hot rolls and pineapple upside-down cake.

Bill and Coleen Little, of 4715 Highgrove Ave., held an anniversary party on Tuesday, April 5, for Bill and Rosalie Davis who had been married nine years on that date. Guests were the Richard Dotys and David Brubakers. A delicious spaghetti dinner was the high spot of the evening.

Helen Pucetti, of 4626 Highgrove Ave., held a going-away party on April 5 for Anita Dias who is moving to Phoenix, Ariz. In the near future, the guests enjoying pizza and spaghetti were Betty Weber, Mary Ann Rhul, Patty Asman, Teddy Mock, Ann Castello, Rosemary Walker and the hostess' mother-in-law, Mrs. Pucetti.

Mrs. Pucetti left on Friday, April 8 for her home in Pittsburgh, Pa., after an extended stay with her son and his family.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack C. Clayton, of 4620 Highgrove Ave., held an egg hunt on their lawn on Easter Sunday. Relatives of the Claytons who were present were Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Payne and their three children of Concord; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Greaves, of Manhattan; Mr. and Mrs. Ruby Asman and four children; Mr. and Mrs. George Marshall and three children; and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Jarvis and two children. After the egg hunt the guests were served breakfast. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Payne, who had been visiting the Claytons for 10 days, left Wednesday by plane for their home in Concord.

Mr. and Mrs. William Arnold, of 4727 Highgrove Ave., entertained Mrs. Arnold's brother, John Kulp and his bride for several days last month. Kulp, recently released after four years in the navy, came here on March 19 and is now settled in his new home in Torrance.

The Arnolds left last Friday for Monterey, where they spent the week end attending the stock car races.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Soderstrom, of 4632 Pacific Coast Hwy., have been entertaining relatives for several weeks. Mrs. Soderstrom's sister, Mrs. John Turner with her two children, Denise Rae and Julie traveled from Sacramento to spend a week and several days later Mr. and Mrs. Hayden Shaner, of Seattle, arrived for a week's visit leaving on April 13.

This will be the last column to come from the typewriter of this reporter. It has been a very enjoyable task but family duties make it impossible to continue. Anyone who would be interested in gathering and writing the Ellinwood news can contact me for further information.
