

68 Per Cent of First Graders Need Dental Care, Survey Shows

Sixty-eight per cent of the first graders in three Torrance schools need dental treatment of some kind.

This fact was indicated by the final report on the dental health program, which was carried out experimentally in three Torrance elementary schools this year. Under the program, 333 first graders at Fern-Greenwood, Perry, and Walteria Schools had their teeth checked by a dentist.

Cheek Shows Need

The check showed that of the 333, 68 or 20 per cent were under dental care, 158 or 48 per cent were in need of dental care, and 109 had good teeth.

No tabulation was made of the number of cavities in each child's teeth.

According to Walter Rehwoldt, director of instruction, the program will be carried out in all schools next year on the first grade level. It was, he said, highly successful and parents approved of the project.

Parents Give OK

With few exceptions, he said, parents consented to have their children's teeth examined. A meeting with parents before

Talking Title To Albright

Scott Albright was named "best speaker of the evening" at the regular meeting of the Torrance Toastmasters Club held last week.

A person can become a more effective speaker, he said, if he studies word background and the use of correct words, although he need not be an expert. His speech was entitled, "You Don't Have to Be a Philologist."

Toastmaster of the evening was Joe Hencel while Gilbert Kyllingstad, was the table top chairman.

The next regular meeting will be at 7 p. m. Tuesday at the Fish Shanty, with speakers to be Sgt. Bill Evans, Harold Briggs, Paul Fisher, Frank Gorbet, and Perley Hamlin, alternate speaker.
