Small Smog Relief Seen In Next Year

Citing scientific "unknowns" that must be explored before Los Angeles can even begin to conquer smog, Dr. W. L. Faith, vice president of the Air Pollution Foundation, yesterday warned the public not to expect anything even approaching a solution of the menace either this year or in 1956.

"Possibilities of controlling smog have been so oversimplified in the minds of many people that millions of residents of the Los Angeles basin have been led to expect quick and easy victory," said Dr. Faith. "Such great expectations definitely are not warranted in the light of our current knowledge.

"Our team of researchers, generally and the Foundation's own backers and contributors, I must say that I cannot see any very appreciable reduction in smog in sight this summer or next. That is the simple, inescapable truth, and I would be gravely remiss in my duty before the 1955 so-called 'smog season' is upon us."

The Foundation itself—which is a non-profit, non-political, scientific organization—is presently sponsoring 46 separate research projects in laboratories stretching across the country. But here again, we must 'make haste slowly'.

"Much as I regret to dampen the hopes both of the public and to demonstrate the various levels of school spirit. The second portion of the day's activities will be called the "play period." During this time, each of the schools will be represented by two teams—one composed of freshmen and sophomores and the other juniors and seniors—and each team will be given a chance to play at least once.

The affair is under the direction of the Tartar GAA cabinet and each member has been working hard to make the day a complete success.

Festivities will begin at 1:30 p.m. today when groups from the various league schools are scheduled to arrive at the Tartar campus. The group will first be put through an introductory program which is designed to acquaint each with the others and to demonstrate the various levels of school spirit.
