

Rolling Hills Lad Honored For Gunnery

Officer Candidate K. M. Poovey, a native of Rolling Hills, received the highest score in gunnery at that course in the Artillery Officer Candidate School here.

The officer candidate, scoring a 97.39 in the gunnery course, took honors as the highest scorer since the reactivation of the Officer Candidate School here in 1951.

He graduated from UCLA in 1954 with a degree in mathematics. In that same year, he was called into the Army and took basic training at Fort Ord, Calif., before entering OCS.

A rock was thrown through a window pane at Phillis Moore Dance Studio, 4068 Redondo Beach Blvd., Tuesday night. It was reported to Torrance police by Robert Engel.

Pack 761 Cubscouts Win Highest District Award with Indian Village

ADALINE CORTEZ
DA 4-6876

In the "country fair" atmosphere prevailing at the Scout-O-Rama held at the Coliseum, uniformed Cub Scouts of Pack 761 proudly stood by their exhibit, a scale model Indian village fashioned of papier mache mountains, blue lakes, trees, wigwams, realistic clay pottery, corals, corn fields, Indian blankets, dancers and warriors.

The Pack won the Honor Award which is the top award in the Harbor District. The Cubmaster is Jerry Cunerty.

Equally proud were Scouts of Troop 761 led by Scoutmaster Johnnie Miller.

They won honors for their knot-tying exhibit.

The Alpha Society held a luncheon at a Los Angeles bakery and the group was conducted through a tour into the realm of breadmaking.

In the group were: Millie Osnes, Janis Beedon, Helen Clayton, Ruth Bruce, Helen Woods, Audrey Richter, Pat Stamm, Connie Gastelum, Ann Collins, Juanita Alford, Eleanor Black, Betty Muir, Betty Johnson, Gloria Carlstrom, Mrs. Blue, Mrs. Leth, and Mrs. Miller.

The N.T.C.L.A. dance to be held at the Western Avenue Club Friday night promises to be a repeat of their last successful party. Everyone is invited. Bids to go for $1.50 a person.

The committeeman of Pack 761-C held their first annual box social at Higgins Brickyard Rumpus Room Saturday night.

Boxes were decorated as straw hats, a bride dressed in paper dollies, a beautiful red and white drum, a firecracker, a covered wagon crossing the island for a week end.

The Ernest Davies', 17530 Corise Ave., and son Bobbie, motored to the Sequoias where they spent Memorial Day week end.

The Eldon Morgans celebrated Virginia's birthday by dining and dancing at the Palladium as a twosome.

The Norman Hales and son, Ricky, attended the Shrine Circus after Scout-O-Rama Saturday night.

A pre-Memorial Day party beginning with the barbecuing of chicken in the garden patio of the Wendell Towell home, 17512 Ermanita Ave., ended in a square dance at the Reese Holbrook residence.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. R. Gastelum, Bob Taylor, J. Avalo, Ken West, J. Miller, P. Bruce, R. Holbrook, and H. Cortez.

Mrs. Florence Isenderg, 3742 W. 177th St., held a luncheon honoring June bride-elect Lillian Scollio of Los Angeles at her home.

An oriental theme was carried out in table appointments with poppies arranged around a black lacquered fan and tiny parasols at each guest's place.

Present at the luncheon were Misses D. E. Fisher, C. Pettijohn, A. Wessler, J. Butts, N. Varobless, J. Emmons.

Johnnie Miller Jr., 3125 W. 170th St., celebrating his birthday with parents Ruth and desert and carrying a calico dressed pioneer lady.

Winning honors with the prettiest box was Mrs. Roland Stamm, who decorated her box as a southern belle with full skirt. Most original was Mrs. Bob Richter, who had her box wrapped in newspapers and tied with a huge rope. Box bid on the highest prize went to Mrs. Bedan.

Games and dancing to the calling of Bob Richter were enjoyed until the wee hours.

And — speaking of square dancers — the Ed Collins, Paul Claytons, and Delbert Alford can keep up with the best, and did, at Catalina when a square dancers convention took over the island for a week end.

Johnnie Miller Jr., 3125 W. 170th St., celebrating his birthday with parents Ruth and Johnnie, dined at Rand's Round Up.

The week end was full of celebrations in the western manner for the Millers, who also planned a Memorial Day barbecue with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ross and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rose at Alondra Park.

Mrs. Roland Stamm held a Gift and Gadget Party, which turned out a delightful assortment of "things."

Those who enjoyed her hospitality were Helen Holbrook, Betty Thistle, Sonja Holmes, Ruth Bruce, Marge Hester, Janet Luz, Millie Osnes, and Mrs. Green.

The Cub Mothers Club of 733-C held a pie social at Verburg's Rumpus Room Saturday night and pies and dancing were tops with the Consides, Vanderwolks, Johnsons, Porters, Schultzs, Smiths, Clines, Normans, Donnellys, and McKees.

'Bake 'N Take Party Stated At Liberty Home

Gingersnaps for the whole family will be baked in Torrance next Thursday as Norge Appliance dealer Milt Isbell, holds a "Bake 'n Take" party at the Libert Home Appliance Co., 1326 Sartori Ave.

Housewives do not have to buy their own gingerbread mix either—the store supplies it.

All Torrance area housewives are invited to try their cooking prowess using prepared mix on the new Norge 1955 ranges with the spacious ovens, Isbell said.

Once baked, the cookies will be gathered in gaily decorated paper bags supplied by the store for carrying home.

Next Thursday's party was announced here yesterday by Isbell, proprietor of Liberty Home Appliance. The party will be held from 10 a.m. until 12 noon and again from 2 p.m. until 5 p.m.

Mickey Van Deventer Has Part in Fiesta

Mickey Van Deventer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grover C. Van Deventer, of 2203 Carson St., will have a prominent part in Zanja Festival, all-college production of the University of Redlands.

She will play the part of a princess in "The Seven Princesses," and will be a dance soloist in the "Fortune Teller." The Fiesta is traditionally held on the day before graduation.

Indian States About one-fourth of all American Indians on U.S. reservations live in Arizona and New Mexico.

The "people of Union Carbide" will soon include the men and women who will operate the Carbide and Carbon Chemicals Company plant now under construction.

Thanks to modern science, you can make things stick together... and stay stuck!

PRIMITIVE MAN used pine pitch and mud to stick things together. These were his adhesives.

INCREASING NEEDS caused man to seek stronger, more durable adhesives. He found he could make them from animal, fish, and vegetable products.

In time, scientists began studying how adhesives work. Was it attraction between the molecules? A chemical reaction? Or a simple mechanical tie? The answer still is not fully known.

THIS RESEARCH, however, together with the development of new chemicals and plastics, led to whole families of new adhesives that now serve us in a variety of ways.

YOU CAN GET quick-setting household cements that mend almost anything. Your furniture is held together with stronger, more enduring glues. Safety glass windshields, tapes that stick at a touch, and plastic floor coverings are possible because of modern adhesives.

MAKING CHEMICALS AND PLASTICS that are essential to these and other adhesives is but one of the many important jobs of the people of Union Carbide.
