

Barbara Jackson Plights Marriage Vows With George Machado Jr., in Beautiful Candlelight Ceremony at St. Francis'

When Miss Barbara Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jackson of 114 Vista Del Mar, walked down the aisle of St. Francis Episcopal Church, Palos Verdes, last Friday evening, June 24, at 8 p.m., to become the bride of George Machado, Jr., she was regal in her wedding gown of white nylon net over white satin. The gown was fashioned with a Chantilly lace bodice, over white satin, embroidered in opalescent sequins, and had a scoop neckline. The billowy nylon tulle skirt was ornamented with insets of white Chantilly lace applied with sequins. The skirt fell into a chapel train. A Chantilly lace cap held the illusion veil and completing the bridal picture was a cascade of white roses and stephanotis atop a white prayerbook. Mr. Jackson accompanied his daughter to the altar and gave her in marriage.

Heading the bridal entourage was the bride's sister, Mrs. James Shidler serving as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss JoAnn Benard, Miss Erma Carsten and Miss Becky Jackson, junior bridesmaid. They wore a symphony in blue in their long torso, full skirted gowns of blue crystaline over taffeta. Each wore a pleated cap of the same material as the dress. Mrs. Shidler carried a basket of Tallman roses and the bridesmaids carried baskets of yellow roses.

Risky Jackson brought the rings to the altar on a white satin pillow.

Mr. Jackson and the bride were met at the place of ceremony by the bridegroom and his best man, Frank Dominguez, Jr. Serving as counter-parts were Don Frederickson of San Diego, Dave Bentley and Chuck Robertson of Reseda.

Tall white candles cast a soft glow over the sanctuary banked with white gladioli and greenery. The bridal party walked down an aisle marked with white gladioli and daisy bouquets tied with white satin ribbon to each pew, and aisle candles.

The Rev. Robert Tourney conducted the vow exchange. The 150 wedding guests were then entertained at a reception in the solarium at the Hollywood Riviera club where the three-tiered wedding cake was served with champagne punch.

Miss Georgia Iblson of Culver City was in charge of the guest book. Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Frank Dickson of Fullerton, aunt of the bride; Mrs. Melvin Miller of Torrance, and sorority sisters of the bride, Misses Pat Gentle of San Leandro, Judi Wood of Salem, and Elizabeth Winship of Arlington.

The newlyweds are on a two weeks honeymoon at Huntington Lake and upon their return will be at home at 831 1/2 8th St., Hermosa Beach.

The bride was graduated from Torrance High School where she was Girls League president, Tartar Lady Queen, and a member of the student council. This month she received her BA at Willamette University at Salem Ore. At Willamette she was president of her sorority, Pi Beta Phi, and graduated with membership in Alpha Kappa Nu, was a member of Cap and Gown, and majored in journalism-social science.

The bridegroom, son of George Machado, Sr. of Santa Barbara, has been residing at 20805 Harvard, Torrance. He received his degree in mathematics at UC, Santa Barbara. He is a member of Sigma Pi fraternity and is employed as a mathematician at Douglas Aircraft, El Segundo.

Gull-Makinster Vows Read At Church of Nazarene

Miss Marlene Gull, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester E. Gull of 1518 W. 255 St., Harbor City, became the bride of Jack L. Makinster, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Makinster of 25525 President Ave., in a double ring ceremony which took place at 4:30, Saturday afternoon, in the Church of the Nazarene. The Rev. Freeman Brunson officiated.

For the ceremony, the church altar was adorned with bouquets of pink and white gladioli and a program of bridal music was played by Mrs. Freeman Brunson at the piano.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a gown of white net over satin, styled with a scoop neckline, shirred bodice and full skirt. Her shoulder length veil was held by a floral tiara and she carried a bouquet of baby orchids and white carnations. The something old of the bridal costume was a watch belonging to her deceased grandmother.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Leonard Pettit, sister of the bridegroom who wore a yellow lace gown in the princess style. Her flowers were a shoulder corsage of yellow roses. Ushers were uncles of the bridegroom, Sterling Hershiser and Gordon Brown. Leonard Pettit served as best man.

A reception followed in the church hall. The bridal table was centered with a three tiered, pink and white wedding cake with tall white tapers arranged at the side. Assisting at the reception were school chums of the bride, the Misses Mary Meyers, Connie Long, Nancy Maxwell, Gwen McCann and Marilyn Smith, cousin of the bride attended the guest book.

Receiving with the bridal couple were their parents. Bride's mother wore a beige knit suit with white accessories and the bridegroom's mother was attired in a suit of white linen worn with matching accessories. Mrs. Gull's corsage was of red roses and Mrs. Makinster's was white gardenias.

The bride was a member of the June graduating class of Narbonne High School, where she was affiliated with the California Scholarship Federation

Hunt-Fields Nuptials Are Impressive June Event

Nuptial vows were exchanged by Miss Phyllis Jo Hunt and Charles A. Fields in a 4 o'clock ceremony held Saturday afternoon at Nativity Catholic Church with Rev. Father Glynn officiating at the single ring rite.

Bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy H. Hunt of 1924 Arlington Ave., and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Dora Fields of 1620 W. 219 St.

Entering the church on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage, the bride was beautiful in a pastel styled gown of egg shell satin, designed with a shoulder yoke of mouseline de soie outlined with shirred satin. Her full length skirt formed a wide train at the back, and her veil of illusion tulle was held by bands of white velvet leaves studded with rhinestones. She carried a white prayer book topped with a cluster of white gardenias and carnations and tied with white satin streamers.

Miss Myrna Burrows, serving as maid of honor, wore a blue lace and net gown styled with a bolero jacket, fitted bodice and full skirt. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations and blue daisies. Sandra Stevens and Sheryl Waters, nieces of the bridegroom, were junior bridesmaids. They wore blue and pink organdy dresses and matching head bands of flowers. They carried small and Baronette Society. Her bridegroom is a graduate of Waterloo High School and is serving with the U. S. Navy in San Diego. He is scheduled to leave in August with the crew of the USS Gurke.

Wayne Jacobson attended the bridegroom as best man and seating the guests were the bride's brothers, Lee and Larry Hunt.

A reception followed in the church annex hall. The bride and bridegroom sat at the first piece of a three tiered, decorated wedding cake which was served by Mrs. Leo Harlan. Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Frank Lyons of Indianapolis, Ind., and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Beal of Downey, Calif.

A Torrance residence has been established by the bridal couple and a honeymoon trip is being planned for early fall.

Williamson - Pryor Nuptials Read in Lovely Late Afternoon Candlelight Church Service

In one of the loveliest weddings of the season held late Sunday afternoon at the St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, Miss Janet Williamson, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel A. Williamson, 1904 Martina repeated her marriage vows with William Thomas Pryor, son of Mrs. Rosemary Pryor, 2423 Carson and Jack Pryor, 2014 Torrance Blvd. Myriads of candles in branched candelabra and in wall brackets lighted the flower-banked altar. White baskets filled with white gladioli and stock were at either side of the chancel entrance and bouquets were tied to the pews.

To the strains of Lohengrin provided by Miss Katherine Mills at the organ the wedding party entered the church. Bridesmaids were Misses Kathleen McElwain of Tacoma, Washington, and Mrs. David Daves, the former Patricia Garrison. Miss Jean Williams, cousin of the bride, served as the honor attendant. All three were in gowns of pink tulle and lace fashioned with a long torso of lace to which was attached a bouffant pink tulle skirt. The gowns had wide pink satin sashes which were tied in huge bustle-effect bows. On their heads were bands of tulle and miniature roses. They carried arm baskets of pink miniature roses.

Dropping petals in the path of the bride was little 3-year-old Karen Johnson, whose dress was also of the pink lace and tulle. Carrying the rings to the altar was Master Chris Johnson.

Then came the radiant bride on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage. Her wedding gown had a Chantilly lace bodice with a portrait neckline and short cap sleeves. Opalescent sequins ornamented the neckline. The skirt of the gown was a full flounce of white net. A Chantilly lace cap decorated with pearls held the veil and the bride's only jewelry was a crystal necklace, gift from her bridegroom. White orchids and valley lilies formed the bridal bouquet.

At the altar, she was met by the bridegroom and his best man, Jerry Cox. Ushers were James Babbitt and Les Mitchell. The Rev. Arthur Bello officiated at the ceremony. Acolytes were Fred Cicero and David Rhone.

Lee Hughes, soloist, sang "O Perfect Love" and during the benediction "The Lord's Prayer." Miss Janet Williams sang the "Ave Maria."

A reception followed in the parish house where the bride's table was centered with a tiered wedding cake topped with wedding bells and lilies of the valley. Miniature pink roses encircled the cake and the silver candelabra holding tall white tapers.
