

DRAMATIC STAR PAUL SHELLEY

... By Any Other Name

'What's In a Name' Goes Around and Around Again

A mix-up over names has caused more than the usual confusion found in the theater for the Magic Circle Players, stock company which opens tonight in the courtyard of the Jamaica Inn.

In the first place, the Inn is known to people in this area as the Hollywood Riviera Club, and the bright neon on its tower still blantly proclaims it as the Hollywood Riviera. However, the management, in attempting to change the entire connotation of the place, refers to it as the Jamaica Inn, in both advertising and on match book covers, two best sources of information.

Star Does It, Too
Furthermore, Paul Shelly, producer of the Magic Circle and one of its stars, is better known in Torrance as Jack Hudson, teacher at Torrance

High school and resident director of ACCENT! Theatre! He assumed the professional name of Paul Shelly two years ago when his best-selling Gold Medal novel, "Saturday's Harvest," came out. He uses it consistently for stage work.

Show Goes On
But no matter who is called what and what where is called, the fact remains that a professional show makes its debut tonight. Tennessee Williams' shocking "Twenty-Seven Wagons Full of Cotton" and Christopher Fry's "A Phoenix Too Frequent" will be presented from 8:30 until 11:00, with a cocktail intermission in between.

Tickets are available at the door from the ladies of ACCENT! Theatre, who are helping the new group along in their effort to establish a permanent, professional experimental theater here.

Minor Title Goes to Cub Nine

The Dodgers and Cubs tangled in the final play off game of the National Minor League Saturday at Little League Park, with the Cubbies nabbing a 10-4 verdict.

The Cubs had taken the regular season pennant earlier by nudging the Braves, 4-2, in a title play off tilt. Both teams finished the season with 13-7 win-loss records.

Six teams were in the league, which was formed when too many boys were left over after the National Little League teams were selected. Minor teams included the Yankees, Cubs, Dodgers, Cardinals, Braves and Indians.

George Surber managed the champion Cubs. They were coached by Walt Mishler.

Dodgers 100 111-4 5
Cubs 011 80x-10 8
Flores, Ginnings and Frayne; Mishler, Battaglia, Duran and Minnis.

Poker Run Set by Club

A Poker Run is scheduled Sunday evening for member groups of the Torrance Police Car Club Association. Buck Ingram, director, announced this week.

Members of six local car clubs, Chasers, Prowlers, Playboys, Ambassadors, Chiefs and Shatters will participate he said. The run will start at 7 p.m. from City Hall and will continue to Palos Verdes and back.

Bill Meehan won the Road Rally, held recently by the TPCCA.

He drove his car from Torrance to the Orange County Park in 1 hour, 12 minutes and 15 seconds. A member of the Shatters, Meehan's time was closest to the 1:07:45 registered by the pace car.

Following the Road Rally, the participants and Torrance Police advisors held a picnic at the park.
