Torrance Nears Quota for Chest

Torrance is nearing the Community Chest goal, with 95.85 per cent or $17,742 of the quota of $18,510 collected to date, city chairman Phillip Lisman said today, adding that the city has already surpassed their final percentage in last year's Chest campaign, which was 95.61 per cent of goal.

Commerce and industry committees, directed by John Ebbinghouse, have nearly reached their quota, with $6,726, or 98.38 per cent of their goal of $6,837, turned in so far, according to Lisman. Business solicitations have netted $1160.50 or 89.92 per cent of the goal of $1,290 for the support of 168 Red Feather agencies, business chairman Bob Waddell said, and advance gifts chairman Dr. Joseph Bay said that his workers have brought in $4,171, or 79.44 per cent of their quota of $5,250.

Can Still Meet Quota
"If Red Feather volunteers in these units finish up their solicitations quickly," Lisman said, "Torrance can go 'over the top' and become the first large community in the harbor area and one of the first in the Los Angeles Chest campaign to reach their goal. Considering the tremendous growth of Torrance in the past year, we should be able to go over our Chest goal by a good amount."

Lisman cited the fine example set by Torrance Red Feather volunteers in the residential campaign, headed by Mrs. Betty Jo Rowell, and public employes campaign, directed by Mrs. Bernice Goodwin, both of which have surpassed their Chest quotas. Collections in the neighborhood campaign now stand at $5,035.43, or 106.81 per cent of the goal of $4,714, and public employes contributed $649, or 154.89 per cent of their quota of $419.

Third in Harbor
Torrance is third in the harbor area Chest campaign, Lisman said, surpassed only by Rolling Hills, which has topped their Chest goal with 105.06, and Palos Verdes, with 99.15 per cent. Torrance leads the four industrial cities of the harbor area, followed by Wilmington with 83.42 per cent, Gardena with 78 per cent, and San Pedro with 63.4 per cent. Lomita-Harbor City collections are at 84.82 per cent.

Harbor area campaign chairman James Visceglia said that Torrance's excellent progress in the campaign has helped the harbor area to keep pace with the rest of the associated cities division of the campaign, which includes all of the Los Angeles Chest area except metropolitan and Hollywood. The harbor area campaign stands at 83.13 per cent, while the associated cities figure is 83 per cent of quota. A deadline of Dec. 15th has been set to wind up the Los Angeles Chest campaign, Visceglia said.

New Torrance Film Now in Production
A revised and up-to-date version of the film, "Torrance, City of Industrial Opportunity," is being prepared by Wil eZna of Riviera Productions, according to Chamber of Commerce President Paul Loranger.
