

In Her Easter Bonnet... 'She'll Be the Grandest Lady In the Easter Parade'

You can hardly tell the front from the back of these new Easter bonnets, surmises 2-year-old Lisa Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Schwartz, 1751 Iris, as she prepares for the Easter parade.

Lisa Ann makes her first try. That pretty ribbon really should be in the front but mommy says no. The flowers go in the front to bring out the color of my blue eyes and to frame my red tresses, so, around it goes.

It's really charming and mother's mirror tells the truth. I have it at the right angle and this final check of my flowers, ribbons, ruffles and frills are just right for this year's Easter parade.

I'm off, with gloves in hand, to join all the other little "ladies" of Torrance in their Easter finery for the observance of Easter Sunday and to help usher in a gay and colorful spring season for 1957.
